Dinner May Force Harriman Into Nomination Race

New York, April 17 (AP)—A Democratic dinner tonight honoring W. Averell Harriman may thrust him into the presidential spotlight.

Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Administration, will be guest of honor at the $100-a-plate affair sponsored by the New York state Democratic committee.

The dinner reflects strong support among the committee's membership to give Harriman the state's 94 votes at the Democratic presidential convention in Chicago.

Parley Set Tomorrow

Tomorrow, the state's 62 Democratic county leaders meet here to discuss "the presidential situation"—full of more party question marks since Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinios said yesterday he "could not accept the nomination for any other office this summer."

And a Democratic spokesman said yesterday that, if Harriman were named, he would be announced as a full-fledged candidate, not as a "favorite son."

Speakers at tonight's dinner include Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee; Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut; Vice-President Alben W. Barkley; Stevenson; Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia is the only announced Democratic candidate not expected to attend.

Close to FDR

Harriman, known to be highly regarded by President Truman, worked closely with the late President Roosevelt and attended international conferences with him.

Truman has publicly expressed no preference for a possible Democratic successor. But it is known that he liked Stevenson and that he has been lukewarm toward Kefauver.

Boat Is Recovered

The sheriff's office today reported the recovery of a rowboat reported stolen last Wednesday. Clarence Crantek of Orlando street, who was left in charge of the boat, said it was stolen from the Esopus creek frontage. County Investigator Arthur H. Brown, after investigation, located the boat this morning and said a group of teen-agers was involved. Due to their ages and the fact that the boat was not damaged, no charges were pressed.

General Is Recommended by Chiefs of Staff to Take Ike's Place

San Francisco, April 17 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the Far East, has been recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe, the Chronicle said today in a copyrighted story from its Washington correspondent, Vance Johnson.

In Tokyo, Ridgway's public information officer said he couldn't comment. Col. George Patrick Welch reported:

"General Ridgway has asked me to state the personal conviction by which he is uniformly guided, that senior officers of the army should express no personal interest in conjectural assignments subsequent to their present duty. He believes that officers should willingly accept and faithfully discharge any assignment decided upon by superior authority."

Johnson said that Ridgway's name had been suggested to the other 13 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

BPW Takes Action On Dump Nuisance Next to Cemetery

Sewer Claim Is Heard, Street Repair List From Aldermen Is Read

The Board of Public Works yesterday considered a request of the Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery Association to close one end of the Sterling street dump.

The board lacked a quorum because two commissioners were out of town and another was ill, but it met in an unofficial session to discuss such matters as could be dealt with under the circumstances.

The letter of the cemetery association said the trustees had been "besieged with complaints from plot owners and relatives because of the condition of the dump near the cemetery line."

The board decided to have City Engineer Arthur J. Hallinan determine the property line and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk suggested a letter to the association informing it of the board's action and notifying it that the BPW would cooperate in every way possible "and as soon as it is deemed advisable the dump will be covered."

Lammon Makes Claim

A letter from Daniel Lammon, 31 Shufeldt street with a bill for $35 for damage which he claims was due to condition of the city sewer on the street was referred to the corporation council, city engineer and Common Council.

Lammon said the sewer had been overloaded for many years and that he had paid other bills for similar repairs.

Resolutions forwarded from the last Common Council session were read and filed for consideration.

Ask Street Repairs

Alderman David Schechter, sixth ward, asked that a spring which runs into Chambers street opposite No. 3 School be covered or piped into a sewer; Joseph Wenzel, fourth ward, asked for the repair of First avenue from Delaware avenue to Moore street; Second avenue from Delaware avenue to High street; Ulster street from Third to Fourth avenues and Fourth avenue to Kingston street; and William Parmelee, 13th ward, asked that the repair of Wilbur avenue be given top priority when the Broadway crossing project is completed.

Other business which required action by a quorum was put over for a special meeting to be called soon.

Await Break in Revolt

Trenton, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Officials at Trenton State Prison today watched for signs of a break in a revolt by 68 convicts barricaded in the prison printing shop. The prison administration is "waiting it out" in an effort to insure the safety of four employes held as hostages by the rioters since 10 a. m. Tuesday, when the revolt began. Reports so far indicate the hostages, two of whom have heart trouble, have not been harmed by the convicts and have even been fed and permitted to secure medicine from the outside.

Jacqueline Loomis Hurt in Bus, Truck Mishap at Fleischmanns Four Years Ago

Jacqueline Loomis, 19, of High street, Phoenicia, recovered a verdict in Supreme Court, New York county, yesterday against T. I. McCormack Trucking Company, Inc., of 261 11th avenue, New York city, for $110,000 and her father, Adrian P. Loomis, was awarded $15,000 for medical expenses and loss of services.

The action was for personal injuries sustained by Jacqueline Loomis in an accident which occurred on January 6, 1948 at the northerly limits of the village of Fleischmanns near Wolf's gas station, at which time a tanker trailer used in hauling molasses and owned by the McCormack company, driven by James R. Young, collided with a bus of the Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation. The bus operated by Paul Celuch of O'Neil street, Kingston, was proceeding north carrying school children and other passengers from Fleischmanns to Margaretville.

Bus Firm Exonerated

Infant plaintiff, Jacqueline Loomis, had used the McCormack Trucking Company and its driver, together with the Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation and its driver, Paul Celuch, for the sum of $200,000 and her father, Adrian P. Loomis, had sued defendants for $50,000. She sustained a fractured skull and serious arm and leg injuries.

The all male jury returned verdicts totaling $125,000 only against the McCormack Trucking Company and its driver, James R. Young and by its verdict exonerated Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation and its driver from any blame or liability.

Paul Celuch, driver of the bus, also sustained severe personal injuries in the same accident. He brought an action in Supreme Court in Ulster county for $200,000 and that action was settled without trial for $60,000.

Eisenhower, Russell Are Big Gainers

(By The Associated Press)

Senator Russell of Georgia and General Dwight Eisenhower were the big gainers in delegate selections yesterday for the national conventions. But Republican Taft and Democrat Kefauver lead their respective party races.

Russell captured his first full state delegation—a 16-vote South Carolina group—which, with one delegate already favoring him in Nebraska, gives him 17 first ballot delegates for the Democratic presidential nomination and moves him into third place in pre-convention choices.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee returned to first place when Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois said he could not accept the nomination "this summer." Stevenson had been promised Illinois' 50 delegates elected April 8 if he wanted them.

Chance to Get More

Kefauver has 40 delegates and might have a lot more if the Illinois and New Jersey delegations decide to follow the non-binding popularity vote results in those states and go for him. Senator Humphrey of Minnesota holds second place with 23 delegates.

Eisenhower gained 31 delegates in the New Jersey primary voting, with four going to Taft, one to Harold E. Stassen, and two being uncommitted. Taft also picked up two in a South Carolina convention which named six uninstructed delegates, four of them uncommitted.

The Republicans have now picked 419 of their 1,205 delegates. A total of 603 will be required to nominate.

Democrats have selected only 225½ (delegates at large may be doubled in a state's discretion and each given half a vote) of their 1,230 full-voting roster, with 616 required to nominate. More than half of those already named will not state a preference at this time.

Tabulation Figures

The latest tabulation of deleagtes pledged, instructed, or willing to state preference:

Republican—Taft, 208; Eisenhower, 119; Stassen, 22; Warren, 6; MacArthur, 2; uncommitted, 62; total, 419.

Democrat—Kefauver, 40; Humphrey, 23; Russell, 17; Kerr, 8; Truman, 6; Stevenson, 4; Sen. Douglas, 2; Ewing, 1; Just. Douglas, ½; Rayburn, ½; uncommitted, 123½; total, 225½.

Central Men Meet Tonight to Discuss Crossing Program

Another important meeting of the Central Business Men's Association relative to the opening celebration of the Broadway railroad crossing project will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Embassy Room at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

A full membership has been requested for the meeting to put the official okay on the plans already made.

New suggestions from the members also will be invited.

In addition to the request for a full attendance of association members, the organization has announced that all others interested in the project, although not members, also are invited to attend.

Soldiers and Civilians Keep Watchful Vigil; 31.5 Crest May Hit Tonight

President Makes Appeal to Fight for Flood Control Projects

Omaha, Nebr., April 17 (AP)—There was watchful waiting on still-rising waters and speed in the rehabilitation job in the flood ravaged midwest today as the forces of nature surged southward to spread more misery.

The Missouri, the Mississippi, the Milk in Montana, the Red River of the North in Minnesota and the Minnesota river all have hit with punishing blows and have a lot left to deal out.

At least two persons had died in the floods.

The Mississippi crested there yesterday at 22.2 feet. Early today army engineers said it appeared to be falling slightly.

The misery dealing Missouri, having sent thousands of families hiking for high ground in one of its worst rampages, was beating at the metropolitan Omaha-Council Bluffs area, the biggest segment of humanity it has had a chance to hit in this outpouring of wrath. A record crest of 31.5 feet is due tonight.

Nothing but Waiting

It was a vigil frought with uncertainty that the huge force of army engineers who built the walls and dikes, soldiers and civilians who raised them much beyond the original height, were keeping. There was nothing they could do but wait—one of the hardest jobs there is.

They had built those walls and levees originally to stand a 26.6 foot crest of the river, a couple of feet over the best the wide stream had ever recorded before.

But the Missouri had a punch they hadn't reckoned with—the predicted 31.5 feet wallop. Today it was up over 29 feet.

At the north end of the Council Bluffs dike standby teams of workmen were building a huge ring of sandbags behind a point where the rush of water against the bank was "piling up" higher than the rest of the stream and actually trickling through the sandbag and flashboard topping on the dike. Nearby, there was some seepage through the levee itself.

As it tore down the valley, dealing out mud and misery, the river built up this punch and gave out the challenge. There was quick answer in men and machines—the building up of the walls and levees and the evacuation of everybody in the twin-city area that might be affected.

Rivermen Confident

Rivermen were fairly confident they had the Missouri licked in this city area, and that downstream the government constructed walls and levees would hold.

But actually, the Missouri, aid-

Flushing Resident Injured in Crash Dies in Hospital

Anthony Herbert, 16, of Flushing, died at Kingston Hospital at 7:25 a. m. today. He was one of five persons injured Tuesday afternoon in an automobile accident on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre.

Sheriff's office men continued to press their investigation of the accident today, but the cause of the head-on collision remained unknown. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was notified this morning of Herbert's death.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said an autopsy will be performed today by Drs. Arthur W. Hazenbush and Herbert Derman, after which Herbert's body will be turned over to a Long Island funeral director. Herbert's home address is listed as Union Turnpike and Main street, Flushing, L. I.

Fred Goeller, 17, of 306 Clinton avenue, was reported in "still serious" condition at Kingston Hospital this morning. The sheriff's office said he was the driver of the automobile in which Herbert was riding.

Keyser 'Fair'

The condition of William S. Keyser of 167 Tremper avenue was reported as "apparently fair" at the hospital today.

The other two persons injured, Robert Canavan, 17 Belvedere street, and Philip Sinagra, 344 Broadway, were discharged from the hospital on Wednesday.

Keyser was a passenger in Canavan's automobile, and Sinagra was riding in the automobile driven by Goeller, according to the sheriff's office report.

The accident happened at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Sheriff's office men who investigated were Arthur H. Brown, county investigator; William R. Churchill, assistant investigator; Earl Conro, identification officer; Carl Cline, jailor, and William Thompson, deputy sheriff.

Taft Wants to Impeach Truman on Steel Move

ThinkGovernment Set to Give Steel Workers Pay Boost

Murray Expected to Lash Industry for Stand Taken Against HST Move

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers were reported growing restive today under pay scales put into effect 17 months ago and the government was believed about ready to give them a raise.

How much and how soon were questions Secretary of Commerce Sawyer was not answering. Sawyer, boss of the seized industry, had a tentative date today with Murray and Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp. Sawyer met separately with the two men yesterday—presumably to lay the groundwork for a government-imposed wage boost.

There was every indication, meanwhile, that Murray would lash the industry in a talk scheduled before the National Press Club (about 1:30 p. m.).

Murray has done no more than issue a short statement in answer to last week's attack from Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel.

Randall said President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was a corrupt deal "that discharges a political debt to the CIO." He said that if any man threatened U. S. troops in Korea for lack of steel "that man's name is Phil Murray."

Calls Statement Lie

Murray called Randall's statement "a deliberate and malicious lie."

The CIO chief was fully expected to expand on that in today's off-the-cuff speech.

President Truman seized the industry eight days ago when repeated attempts to reach agreement on a new work contract failed. The union's scheduled strike was immediately called off.

The union is demanding a

Senate May Be Asked to Vote Against Funds to Enforce Seizure

The Senate may be asked to show its disapproval of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry, according to an Associated Press report from Washington, while another from Boston, Mass., said Senator Taft would consider impeachment of the President for his move.

The Washington report said the Senate may be requested to vote against use of certain funds to enforce the seizure order.

In Boston, Taft was quoted as saying, "I think that the seizure of steel is a valid case for impeachment. It is valid for presentation to the House certainly."

Studying Rights

The Ohio Republican said he and three other senators are supporting a resolution directing a Senate committee to study the President's legal rights in making the seizure.

A group of Republican senators yesterday sought to force a shutdown on the question by offering an amendment to a deficiency appropriations bill barring use of any part of its $960,641,000 funds to enforce the order which put control of the steel industry under the secretary of commerce.

Actually, none of the money requested by the President in the bill was for that purpose. The measure carries some funds for the Commerce Department but only for its aviation and highway activities.

However, Minority Leader Bridges (R.-N.H.), one of the sponsors of the amendment, described it as "a vehicle Congress could use to express its disapproval of the President's action."

Sen. Hill (D.-Ala.), an appropriations committee member, told a reporter he was confident the amendment would be opposed strongly on the Democratic side.

Some Democrats said it was not relevant to the bill, which finances operation of various government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30. Largest single item is 348 million dollars

ThreeReasonsAreExplained Why U.S. Pilots Refuse to Fly

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The air force is worried about the possibility of a serious shortage of pilots to man the nation's military planes.

Its anxieties are heightened by a wave of stay-down strikes of air force fliers who have refused to take up their planes.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, lists three causes for the situation:

1. A rising death rate in military flights.
2. Insufficient "hazard" pay for airmen.
3. Reserve officers recalled to duty claim they are being asked to do more than their share.

Stay-down strikes have been reported at Biggs and Randolph air bases in Texas and at Mather Field in California.

Vandenberg recommended that Congress pass legislation that would provide higher hazard pay for fliers to give them a greater incentive to man their planes.

Vandenberg noted, too, that Russia is luring its best youths into flying duty by offering almost double pay and other benefits.

Vandenberg said it had been necessary to call back a number

Refuses to Serve on Jury Because Religion Is Against Reds

New York, April 17 (AP)—A Roman Catholic said yesterday he didn't want to serve on a jury to try 16 second-string Communists, but several other Catholics said they did—and could judge the Communists fairly.

The incident caused lengthy argument during proceedings to eliminate unqualified persons from the jury panel.

Raymond Schappert, a Bronx purchasing agent, started it when he asked to be excused.

"I would be embarrassed," he said. "I am a member of the Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society, (a Catholic lay group) and I don't care much for Communists."

Defense lawyers then asked for a private talk with Judge Edward J. Dimock. Attorney John T. McTernan said the Catholic Church's opposition to communism would influence any Catholic "who takes his religion seriously."

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Two members of the House Armed Services Committee said today "the Soviet is outproducing us in planes by three or four to one" and demanded an investigation.

Central Men Meet Tonight to Discuss Crossing Program

Another important meeting of the Central Business Men's Association relative to the opening celebration of the Broadway railroad crossing project will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Embassy Room at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

A full membership has been requested for the meeting to put the official okay on the plans already made.

New suggestions from the members also will be invited.

In addition to the request for a full attendance of association members, the organization has announced that all others interested in the project, although not members, also are invited to attend.

Flushing Resident Injured in Crash Dies in Hospital

Anthony Herbert, 16, of Flushing, died at Kingston Hospital at 7:25 a. m. today. He was one of five persons injured Tuesday afternoon in an automobile accident on Route 28 near the Sunset Drive-In Theatre.

Sheriff's office men continued to press their investigation of the accident today, but the cause of the head-on collision remained unknown. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was notified this morning of Herbert's death.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said an autopsy will be performed today by Drs. Arthur W. Hazenbush and Herbert Derman, after which Herbert's body will be turned over to a Long Island funeral director. Herbert's home address is listed as Union Turnpike and Main street, Flushing, L. I.

Fred Goeller, 17, of 306 Clinton avenue, was reported in "still serious" condition at Kingston Hospital this morning. The sheriff's office said he was the driver of the automobile in which Herbert was riding.

Keyser 'Fair'

The condition of William S. Keyser of 167 Tremper avenue was reported as "apparently fair" at the hospital today.

The other two persons injured, Robert Canavan, 17 Belvedere street, and Philip Sinagra, 344 Broadway, were discharged from the hospital on Wednesday.

Keyser was a passenger in Canavan's automobile, and Sinagra was riding in the automobile driven by Goeller, according to the sheriff's office report.

The accident happened at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Sheriff's office men who investigated were Arthur H. Brown, county investigator; William R. Churchill, assistant investigator; Earl Conro, identification officer; Carl Cline, jailor, and William Thompson, deputy sheriff.

Taft Wants to Impeach Truman on Steel Move

ThinkGovernment Set to Give Steel Workers Pay Boost

Murray Expected to Lash Industry for Stand Taken Against HST Move

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers were reported growing restive today under pay scales put into effect 17 months ago and the government was believed about ready to give them a raise.

How much and how soon were questions Secretary of Commerce Sawyer was not answering. Sawyer, boss of the seized industry, had a tentative date today with Murray and Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp. Sawyer met separately with the two men yesterday—presumably to lay the groundwork for a government-imposed wage boost.

There was every indication, meanwhile, that Murray would lash the industry in a talk scheduled before the National Press Club (about 1:30 p. m.).

Murray has done no more than issue a short statement in answer to last week's attack from Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel.

Randall said President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was a corrupt deal "that discharges a political debt to the CIO." He said that if any man threatened U. S. troops in Korea for lack of steel "that man's name is Phil Murray."

Calls Statement Lie

Murray called Randall's statement "a deliberate and malicious lie."

The CIO chief was fully expected to expand on that in today's off-the-cuff speech.

President Truman seized the industry eight days ago when repeated attempts to reach agreement on a new work contract failed. The union's scheduled strike was immediately called off.

The union is demanding a

Senate May Be Asked to Vote Against Funds to Enforce Seizure

The Senate may be asked to show its disapproval of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry, according to an Associated Press report from Washington, while another from Boston, Mass., said Senator Taft would consider impeachment of the President for his move.

The Washington report said the Senate may be requested to vote against use of certain funds to enforce the seizure order.

In Boston, Taft was quoted as saying, "I think that the seizure of steel is a valid case for impeachment. It is valid for presentation to the House certainly."

Studying Rights

The Ohio Republican said he and three other senators are supporting a resolution directing a Senate committee to study the President's legal rights in making the seizure.

A group of Republican senators yesterday sought to force a shutdown on the question by offering an amendment to a deficiency appropriations bill barring use of any part of its $960,641,000 funds to enforce the order which put control of the steel industry under the secretary of commerce.

Actually, none of the money requested by the President in the bill was for that purpose. The measure carries some funds for the Commerce Department but only for its aviation and highway activities.

However, Minority Leader Bridges (R.-N.H.), one of the sponsors of the amendment, described it as "a vehicle Congress could use to express its disapproval of the President's action."

Sen. Hill (D.-Ala.), an appropriations committee member, told a reporter he was confident the amendment would be opposed strongly on the Democratic side.

Some Democrats said it was not relevant to the bill, which finances operation of various government agencies for the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30. Largest single item is 348 million dollars

May Be Ridgway

General Is Recommended by Chiefs of Staff to Take Ike's Place

San Francisco, April 17 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the Far East, has been recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe, the Chronicle said today in a copyrighted story from its Washington correspondent, Vance Johnson.

In Tokyo, Ridgway's public information officer said he couldn't comment. Col. George Patrick Welch reported:

"General Ridgway has asked me to state the personal conviction by which he is uniformly guided, that senior officers of the army should express no personal interest in conjectural assignments subsequent to their present duty. He believes that officers should willingly accept and faithfully discharge any assignment decided upon by superior authority."

Johnson said that Ridgway's name had been suggested to the other 13 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

Death on the Highway

Grieving relatives gather at left as County Attorney Gerard S. Williams starts to cover the broken body of Kelvin Bourgoin, a four-year-old, killed by the truck in the background at Avon, Me. The boy's cap is beyond the body. Police said the boy ran from a driveway into the path of the truck.

ThreeReasonsAreExplained Why U.S. Pilots Refuse to Fly

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The air force is worried about the possibility of a serious shortage of pilots to man the nation's military planes.

Its anxieties are heightened by a wave of stay-down strikes of air force fliers who have refused to take up their planes.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, lists three causes for the situation:

1. A rising death rate in military flights.

2. Insufficient "hazard" pay for airmen.

3. Reserve officers recalled to duty claim they are being asked to do more than their share.

Stay-down strikes have been reported at Biggs and Randolph air bases in Texas and at Mather Field in California.

Vandenberg recommended that Congress pass legislation that would provide higher hazard pay for fliers to give them a greater incentive to man their planes.

Vandenberg noted, too, that Russia is luring its best youths into flying duty by offering almost double pay and other benefits.

Vandenberg said it had been necessary to call back a number

Has Catholic View

Refuses to Serve on Jury Because Religion Is Against Reds

New York, April 17 (AP)—A Roman Catholic said yesterday he didn't want to serve on a jury to try 16 second-string Communists, but several other Catholics said they did—and could judge the Communists fairly.

The incident caused lengthy argument during proceedings to eliminate unqualified persons from the jury panel.

Raymond Schappert, a Bronx purchasing agent, started it when he asked to be excused.

"I would be embarrassed," he said. "I am a member of the Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society, (a Catholic lay group) and I don't care much for Communists."

Defense lawyers then asked for a private talk with Judge Edward J. Dimock. Attorney John T. McTernan said the Catholic Church's opposition to communism would influence any Catholic "who takes his religion seriously."

Ex-Communist Warns Japs

Tokyo (AP)—One of Japan's first Communist leaders is warning that Japan is Soviet Russia's primary target for aggression in the Orient. Geku Sano, who broke with the party 20 years ago, said in the Japan weekly that Russian designs are being concentrated in the Orient because of the growing strength of western Europe. "Peace offensives and local rebellions tinged with nationalism are still effective weapons in Asia," Sano wrote. "So far, only China has fallen to the Soviets. To put all of Asia under domination, the Communists must also have Japan and India."

Elect Rubin Head Of New Shandaken Fire Department

Martin J. Rubin of Shandaken was elected president of the newly-organized Shandaken Fire Company Monday night.

The 45 volunteers, meeting in the Shandaken Town Hall, also elected the following: Sidney Ford, vice president; Rudolph Frank, secretary, and Fred Cleaveland, treasurer. All are from Shandaken.

It was announced that the new company would serve the villages of Shandaken, Allaben and Bushnellsville.

The following were elected chairmen of committees: by-laws, Hartman Dutcher; training, Ralph Hoffman; to extend district to Bushnellsville, Thomas Chervaney; to locate water sources, Carl Townsend.

Action to organize the company followed a recent fire in Bushnellsville which claimed the life of an elderly resident, William C. German, 90, and destroyed his observed smoke seeping through the windows at approximately 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, March 19, two-story frame house. Neighbors and called the Phoenicia and West Kill fire departments, but they were unable to save the building.

Earthquake Explanation

Here is the Malayan's explanation of an earthquake: "The earth is a sort of egg, resting on the horns of a bull; when the bull gets angry and shakes its head, an earthquake results."

Beat an egg into two cups of leftover mashed potatoes, turn into a small shallow oven dish and brown in a hot oven.

CANDIDATES' WRITE-IN RESULTS

Senator Taft's lopsided victory in the Illinois primary was the expected. He had the full support of the potent GOP organization, and very little formal opposition.

Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor, was the only man on the ballot against the Ohioan. Taft rang up more than 865,000 votes against Stassen's 150,000.

General Eisenhower was not an official entry, but he figured in the contest as a write-in candidate. Less than complete returns showed him edging toward the 140,000 vote mark.

Naturally enough, the Taft camp is pointing to this showing as "pitifully small" in comparison to the senator's total. But it is time to strip away fanciful talk and face a few fundamentals about this write-in business.

Because of the Minnesota and Nebraska write-in results, the rather giddy notion has got about that a write-in candidate is virtually on an equal footing with a formal candidate whose name is on the ballot. In other words, a lot of people are assuming that a fair test has been had when a write-in choice has been matched against a formal entry.

This is emphatically not the case, as the Taft people themselves would be the first to point out if, in any instance, Eisenhower were on the ballot and the senator merely a write-in candidate.

It is axiomatic in politics that the write-in chore is a difficult one for the voter to perform, and that any such result reflects only a fair percentage of the support a write-in choice might get if he were on the ballot.

In the Illinois primary, Eisenhower's showing, by any reasonable comparsion, was a good one. It ought to be remembered that the highest write-in total ever hung up for any man in U. S. history was 146,000 for a mayoralty candidate in New York city during the 1930's. There is nothing "pitifully small" about a total that approaches this record.

Furthermore, unlike their counterparts in Minnesota and Nebraska, the Eisenhower leaders in Illinois did not officially sponsor the write-in. Local Ike clubs pushed it, and Governor Lodge of Connecticut made a two-day stumping tour of the state. But these things hardly amount to a full-scale effort.

Under the law Eisenhower could have formally entered Illinois, since his written consent was not required. His Washington men chose not to enter him because they believed the situation unfavorable. They were thinking of the organization's heavy leaning toward Taft, and the prospect that Illinois, tending more toward isolationism than many states, would inevitably be good Taft territory.

Events seem to have borne out their fears. Yet those events did not constitute a "stinging defeat" for Ike, as one reporter had it. His write-in was highly respectable. But there are marked limits to the write-in technique, especially when the effort is only a modest one.

Taft won a handsome victory in Illinois. It reaffirms the fact that the 1952 race is a real contest. But no political realist regards the result as embarrassing to his chief opponent.

WOMEN CANDIDATES

How long before a presidential ticket includes a woman? A cautious experiment would be to nominate a woman for vice president. If the ticket won, politicians would feel encouraged later to take the bolder step. It might not be too risky. There have been women governors, and the service of Maine's Senator Margaret Chase Smith has won approval as well as that of some other women in legislatures.

The problem is whether a woman candidate would attract or repel more voters. Many men would not support a woman for any office, except possibly the school board. A good many women probably would be prejudiced against political promotion for another member of their sex. On the other hand, a good many voters would display real enthusiasm in supporting a capable and attractive woman.

If politicians were not overwhelmingly addicted to playing safe, there would have been by now many more women on their tickets.

Brain trusters are probably all right in their place. What stings are the brain busters they sometimes come up with.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

CAMPAIGN BY SILENCE

The leadership principle developed by Mussolini and Hitler was based upon the Nietzschean idea of the superman. Their concept was that some men are endowed with qualities that are beyond the human. They are in fact men-gods.

Under the leadership principle, the evidence of such superiority is that it exists. It was never necessary for Hitler to explain why he was the leader; it was sufficient that he was the leader. He asserted it.

In the United States, this leadership principle has never been accepted. Americans have never, even as regards George Washington, been willing that one man is so far above his contemporaries that he stands alone and aloof. History might do it for a man's reputation, as it has for Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, but the man himself could not assert that it was so while he lived.

It is important to take this into consideration in relationship to the plan of General Eisenhower to be silent on current problems until after he shall have been nominated. The assumption that it is possible to campaign by silence can only be an assertion of the leadership principle, namely, that General Eisenhower is a superman, over and above all other men and that he need make no explanations with regard to his desire to be President.

If General Eisenhower's managers sold him that idea, they have done him a grave injustice, because no man, in the United States, can be placed on such a pedestal. General Eisenhower, if he wants the Presidency, will have to explain what he believes, what he proposes to do, what he favors, what he opposes. Otherwise, men will say that he fears to speak out.

The suggestion has been made that when General Eisenhower comes to this country on June 1, he will go to Abilene, Kansas, where he will sit, waiting for delegations. Those who manage his campaign forget that a hundred or more newspapermen, photographers, radio newscasters, etc., will also be camping on his front yard, and that these men—and there will be a few women among them—will be asking questions daily and will be telegraphing and telephoning stories to their wire services and their newspapers and they will be speaking over the radio.

Abilene will become a busy spot for news, if Eisenhower settles there for a month. No politician will reach that town without the reporters knowing what he is there for.

And these reporters will ask the general lots of interesting questions. For instance, a southern reporter might want to know what General Eisenhower thinks of a national, compulsory FEPC. The general might answer that that would be left to the states, but such an answer would get him into hot water with large segments of the northern population.

A CIO reporter might ask him what he proposes to do with the Taft-Hartley Law, or national legislation for increased safety in mines, or whether cost-of-living escalator clauses should be compulsory.

Texas, California and Louisiana reporters will want his views on tideland oil.

An A. F. of L reporter might inquire into Eisenhower's ideas concerning the arresting of the inflation and the relationship of GATT (an international trade and tariff agreement) to certain American industries which under such tariff arrangements cannot compete with European industries exporting into the American market.

Some of us who are interested in foreign affairs might put a proposition such as this to Eisenhower:

Granted that the United States should give aid to nations with which we are associated, should that aid be granted on the basis of their necessities or on the basis of our capabilities? With a budget reaching $100,000,000,000, how much aid can we afford to grant without impairing our own economy? With a depreciated dollar, down to 53 cents, based on a 1935-39 average, can we afford further to depreciate our dollar by increasing our national debt and lowering our purchasing power?

The next President of the United States, whoever he may be, will have to deal with that one problem every day that he is in the White House. It is the crucial economic question of American survival and it cannot be dodged because the budget forces it upon us. Every candidate should be asked to discuss this, so that the people may judge how each one stands on it. Silence adds no wisdom to that.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

An old family physician was asked to make a thorough examination of a young man who was about to take out some life insurance and wanted to know if he was in fit condition to obtain a policy. After a thorough examination, the physician told he he was sound and would obtain the policy if he followed some simple suggestions.

Among the suggestions were that he go to the examining physician's office as early in the day as possible and without breakfast. When heart and blood pressure were being tested, he was to let his body go flaccid or limp so as not to raise the blood pressure or the pulse rate. If the examining physician found pulse or blood pressure high, he was to ask to read the morning paper for a few minutes in order to "calm down."

The idea behind this procedure was the fact that emotions and nervousness can throw out normal blood pressure readings.

During one of the sessions of the American Heart Association, Drs. Heinz Magendantz and Joseph Shortsleeve, Boston, recounted their experience in taking electrocardiograph readings. They found abnormal readings pointing to heart ailments in patients without obvious heart disease and no tachycardia (very rapid beating of the heart). When examination of these patients' heart and blood vessel systems by clinical, X-ray and laboratory means failed to show evidence of any heart disease, it seemed possible that anxiety was responsible for the changes in the electrocardiogram. Therefore, the electrocardiogram was repeated with reassurance and 15 minutes of bed rest. Surprisingly, this often lead to reversal or disappearance of the electrocardiograph abnormalities.

Clinical study of these patients revealed that many suffered from anxiety, neurocirculatory asthenia (irritable, nervous, soldier's heart) or related psychiatric (emotional) disorders.

These findings are in line with those of other investigators who have reported instances of abnormal electrocardiograms in fearful patients. The following factors have been blamed for such electrocardiograph abnormalities: alkalosis, imbalance of extracts of the glands, heightened sympathetic (central nerve) tone and others. Drs. Magendantz and Shortsleeve were able to correct these abnormalities by the simple treatment of rest and reassurance.

Call Me Mister

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — One of this column's first exposes of tax fraud four years ago was the story of two highway contractors, W. J. Hardy and F. McKenzie Davidson, who built the winding labyrinth of asphalt roads around the giant Pentagon building during the war and then sneaked out of paying taxes to Uncle Sam.

Following publication of their tax chiseling, the two gentlemen from Virginia went to jail—though not until after a suspiciously long delay.

A newspaperman always likes to believe that he's ahead of the news, that he's completely accurate and never omits anything important from a story. I am no exception. In this case, however, I find it necessary to confess that I did an incomplete job of reporting.

I thought I did justice to Hardy and Davison but I didn't. One of the most important parts of the story was omitted. This was the manner in which the two asphalt kings scraped up $35,000 in cash to make pay offs and buy their way out of a jail sentence.

The money was sealed in a brown manila envelope on Sept. 23, 1948, and delivered to their attorney, Howard Vesey. Of this amount, $10,000 was to be paid to the "Democratic campaign fund," and the $25,000 balance to a "Mr. X."

Telltale Letter

Davidson even wrote a letter about the pay-off plan. Dated April 29, 1949, and addressed to his attorneys, Davison's letter bluntly spelled out the tax fix as follows:

"When we employed the firm of Vesey, Prince and Clineburg, we paid a $5,000 retainer fee and later, after several conferences at the suggestion of Vesey, we put up in cash $35,000 to be used as follows: Vesey was to donate $10,000 to the Democratic campaign fund and the balance, $25,000, was to be paid to a certain Mr. X at that time, and who later appears in the picture as a Mr. Shepard, if, as, and when he succeeded in having our case killed as to criminal prosecution. No payment was to be made to anyone, Vesey included, until the case was definitely killed. This was very plainly set forth in the meetings and was distinctly understood by Vesey and all concerned, including Shepard."

That was the set-up by which the two road contractors planned to avoid serving jail sentences, and the most interesting thing is who was to pull the tax wires and get the $35,000 pay-off.

This column, investigating further, found that members of Mr. Vesey's staff admitted receipt of the envelope containing the $35,000. However, they said the money was never listed by the firm as a legal fee.

Investigation also showed that the mysterious "Mr. X" or Mr. Shepard appears to be James J. Shepard, Jr., a tax attorney. He admitted that he had been consulted in the Hardy-Davison case, but claimed that he participated in only one conference, decided they were guilty, and so advised them.

Kansas City Friend

Shepard vigorously denied any part in an attempted fix. Asked several times whether he had ever been offered $25,000—as stated in Davison's letter—he never answered. He claimed he got called into the case through a friend, Walter Maloney.

Maloney is a former Kansas City attorney who came to Washington shortly after Harry Truman became a senator from Missouri. He once served as judge of the Jackson county court, as did President Truman when he was a young protege of the Pendergast machine.

Maloney, queried about the case, said he and Shepard were supposed to split the fee 50-50, but in the end he was paid nothing. He denied using any influence, explained that the case "had gone too far, was in the penal division, and there was too much of a record on it."

When the above maneuvers didn't work, the two asphalt kings tried potent Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia. Byrd stated afterward that he gave them no aid.

In the end, efforts to pull wires could not stand up against the persistence of T-men and the spotlight of publicity. Though there were months of delay, and though U. S. Attorney George Humrickhouse in Richmond held off prosecution an usually long time, the two asphalt kings eventually got a couple of years in jail.

Washington Pipeline

West Virginia's Bible-quoting Sen. Matt Neely has done more to clean up crime in the nation's capital than any other member of Congress. However, he attributes his success to a quiet New York lawyer, Arnold Bauman, his crack chief counsel. . . .On the other hand, Sen. Herman Welker of Idaho has consistently asked friendly questions of witnesses accused of graft, bullied witnesses who were trying to clean up crime, and even did his best in the secrecy of the Senate Rules Committee to stop the crime probe. . . . Political Primaries Have Some Weight in Race But the Convention Decides

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The American people are getting accustomed now to something many citizens didn't realize a few weeks ago—they are learning that the results of the state primaries are by no means conclusive. When Sen. Taft wins a primary as he did in Illinois, the Eisenhower supporters get a bit dejected. Then, when the general comes out on top as he did in New Jersey, the Taft managers by their comments do everything they can to minimize the importance of the victory.

Actually the pre-convention campaign is running true to form. The majority of the delegates will do the nominating, and very few states have primaries. The battle for prestige in the eyes of the public and the battle of interpretations as to what this or that primary means continue as always.

The contest in the Republican party is by no means settled for anybody. Even those who think that neither Taft nor Eisenhower will have a majority and that the Taft strength will swing to Gen. MacArthur haven't anything to base this view on except the tendency in past deadlocks to seek a compromise candidate.

Issues and situations often change the whole picture. Back in 1912, Champ Clark, then Speaker of the House of Representatives, had the Democratic nomination apparently sewed up and the followers of Woodrow Wilson were fighting an uphill battle. It was almost on the eve of the convention that William Jennings Bryan interposed his issue of progressivism versus conservatism inside the party and the political fur started to fly. The Clark strength was prevented from growing and in the end couldn't achieve the necessary two-thirds.

There is no parallel development in the offing just now, but events sometimes make issues. Thus, if Gen. Eisenhower were in the United States today, he would have a hard time refraining from comment on the seizure by President Truman of the steel industry. Sen. Taft is in an advantageous position in being able to dramatize this issue by statements on the floor of the Senate.

If the industrial situation becomes more serious in the future than it has been, the chances of involving all Republican candidates in it will increase. It is a basic and fundamental controversy. The Democrats are trying to say it's just an issue of greed by steel companies or refusal to pay higher wages, but the fact is that it is an issue involving usurpation of constitutional power. No matter what benevolent objective is being sought, the argument that the end justifies the means is not persuasive. It has been worn threadbare by the Fair Deal now as well as by the New Deal.

The Democratic party's situation grows no better due to Mr. Truman's blunders. Having declined to accept renomination, the President is not helping his party by his recent behavior on public policies.

The fact that Gov. Stevenson of Illinois has decided not to run is significant. Would anybody turn down a party nomination if victory were assured? The friends of Gov. Stevenson who want him to continue as the chief executive in Illinois would be happy, too, to have him become president, but what they really fear is that they may lose a Democratic governor and fail to elect a Democratic president.

Who, then, will take the risks of a Democratic nomination? Is Averell Harriman being seriously advanced by New York Democrats? Why do the political machines turn their backs on Sen. Kefauver, of Tennessee, who obviously has strength with the Democratic voters? Who else have the Democrats available?

Vice-President Barkley is in every sense except one a good candidate. He is an experienced legislator and a man of ability, familiar with national problems. But, despite his youthful appearance and vigor, the rank and file of the delegates will hesitate to name him because of his age—and unless MacArthur, who is seventy-two, is named on the Republican ticket, it isn't likely that Barkley will be chosen on the Democratic side.

The possibility still exists that the Democrats will turn to Truman in desperation. There are many Democratic officeholders who actually believe Truman's campaigning won for him in 1948 and that "he can do it again." As the Democratic aspirants are looked over in the next few weeks, many of the party managers will say to themselves they could at least nominate Truman and ask him to run again. Maybe if Taft is the nominee Mr. Truman might change his mind. That is the impression often conveyed in the past by his intimates. The unexpected sometimes happens in politics—just when everybody is certain it can't happen.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

After going back through the old laws of the 1770's of the City of Hudson I dipped into Van Buren's Ulster County Under the Dutch. Back in Nov., 1661, Stuyvesant promulgated various ordinances regulating the affairs of Kingston. One of them on fire prevention was that "no person should construct any plastered or wooden chimneys or kindle any fire in houses with walls or gables made of straw, or in the center on the floors of other houses covered with thatch unless there be a good, solid plank ceiling in the house." They also had the court appoint two fire wardens. The fire wardens had to inspect all the houses and chimneys about every two or three weeks and see that they were properly constructed and cleaned.

To protect their cornfields from neighbor's horses, cattle and hogs, everyone was required to keep a tight fence and gate. In fact, they had a pound, in which animals doing damages were to be restrained. The owner of the animals had to pay for the damages done. In this 1661 ordinance it was also stated: "Every person must fence his lot within four months and build on the same within one year, without selling or conveying to others, in default of which the court must grant the lot to others who are better disposed and more industrious."

In 1661, the stockade was beginning to decay and openings had been made here and there which remained unclosed during the night, "to the imminent danger of the place and advantage of the enemy." The sergeant was commanded to repair it. All openings had to be closed at night. "If anyone did not close and shut at night what he had opened during the day he should be fined for the first offense three guilders, for the second double as much and for the third, two pounds Flemish."

They also mention a new road was opened from the village to the new and undivided lands. It was dated Nov. 22, 1661, at which time it seems Stuyvesant was in Kingston. It said, "The same shall pass over the land of Everet Pels along the side of the kill, and over across the land where it is narrowest, over Jacob Jansen Stol's land, thence in a straight line through the great lot away unto the Dwars Kill." Now I wonder where that was, as it must be one of our main roads today. They asked that "Loose cattle or foals besides the mares should not be driven over the road under penalty of one pound Flemish for each animal so driven. A swing gate should be erected at the beginning of the road and always kept closed by a person appointed by the court for that purpose. He should receive for opening and closing the gate such sums as the owners of the farms should agree upon."

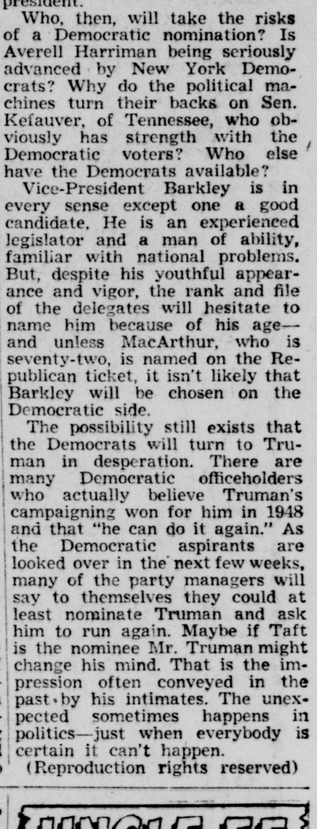
It seems the colonists were not careful in locking their gates, nor the gates of the stockade, and did not fix all the openings. They were being fined and otherwise penalized but still they kept on being careless. Another interesting item reads: "March 30, 1663, Stuyvesant issued an ordinance that all persons claiming land at Wildwyck, or in the new village, must apply for and receive deeds for the same within two months. They must also begin to cultivate and fence the same or forfeit the land."

Heavy Damage

An average of 40,000 fires, causing an estimated $50,000,000 damage, occur in stores and store buildings of the United States annually.

Destroyed Year's Work

Michael Arlen, famous English novelist, once destroyed the manuscript of a novel representing a year of work because he simply didn't like the result.



There's a lot of indignation in our country over the corruption and loose handling of money in Washington. To be honest, though, it's sort of divided. A majority are mad clear through about the crookedness and then some others are not so much stirred up over all the money that's being thrown around as they are over not knowing how to get any of it.

CANDIDATES' WRITE-IN RESULTS

Senator Taft's lopsided victory in the Illinois primary was the expected. He had the full support of the potent GOP organization, and very little formal opposition.

Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor, was the only man on the ballot against the Ohioan. Taft rang up more than 865,000 votes against Stassen's 150,000.

General Eisenhower was not an official entry, but he figured in the contest as a write-in candidate. Less than complete returns showed him edging toward the 140,000 vote mark.

Naturally enough, the Taft camp is pointing to this showing as "pitifully small" in comparison to the senator's total. But it is time to strip away fanciful talk and face a few fundamentals about this write-in business.

Because of the Minnesota and Nebraska write-in results, the rather giddy notion has got about that a write-in candidate is virtually on an equal footing with a formal candidate whose name is on the ballot. In other words, a lot of people are assuming that a fair test has been had when a write-in choice has been matched against a formal entry.

This is emphatically not the case, as the Taft people themselves would be the first to point out if, in any instance, Eisenhower were on the ballot and the senator merely a write-in candidate.

It is axiomatic in politics that the write-in chore is a difficult one for the voter to perform, and that any such result reflects only a fair percentage of the support a write-in choice might get if he were on the ballot.

In the Illinois primary, Eisenhower's showing, by any reasonable comparsion, was a good one. It ought to be remembered that the highest write-in total ever hung up for any man in U. S. history was 146,000 for a mayoralty candidate in New York city during the 1930's. There is nothing "pitifully small" about a total that approaches this record.

Furthermore, unlike their counterparts in Minnesota and Nebraska, the Eisenhower leaders in Illinois did not officially sponsor the write-in. Local Ike clubs pushed it, and Governor Lodge of Connecticut made a two-day stumping tour of the state. But these things hardly amount to a full-scale effort.

Under the law Eisenhower could have formally entered Illinois, since his written consent was not required. His Washington men chose not to enter him because they believed the situation unfavorable. They were thinking of the organization's heavy leaning toward Taft, and the prospect that Illinois, tending more toward isolationism than many states, would inevitably be good Taft territory.

Events seem to have borne out their fears. Yet those events did not constitute a "stinging defeat" for Ike, as one reporter had it. His write-in was highly respectable. But there are marked limits to the write-in technique, especially when the effort is only a modest one.

Taft won a handsome victory in Illinois. It reaffirms the fact that the 1952 race is a real contest. But no political realist regards the result as embarrassing to his chief opponent.

WOMEN CANDIDATES

How long before a presidential ticket includes a woman? A cautious experiment would be to nominate a woman for vice president. If the ticket won, politicians would feel encouraged later to take the bolder step. It might not be too risky. There have been women governors, and the service of Maine's Senator Margaret Chase Smith has won approval as well as that of some other women in legislatures.

The problem is whether a woman candidate would attract or repel more voters. Many men would not support a woman for any office, except possibly the school board. A good many women probably would be prejudiced against political promotion for another member of their sex. On the other hand, a good many voters would display real enthusiasm in supporting a capable and attractive woman.

If politicians were not overwhelmingly addicted to playing safe, there would have been by now many more women on their tickets.

Brain trusters are probably all right in their place. What stings are the brain busters they sometimes come up with.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

CAMPAIGN BY SILENCE

The leadership principle developed by Mussolini and Hitler was based upon the Nietzschean idea of the superman. Their concept was that some men are endowed with qualities that are beyond the human. They are in fact men-gods.

Under the leadership principle, the evidence of such superiority is that it exists. It was never necessary for Hitler to explain why he was the leader; it was sufficient that he was the leader. He asserted it.

In the United States, this leadership principle has never been accepted. Americans have never, even as regards George Washington, been willing that one man is so far above his contemporaries that he stands alone and aloof. History might do it for a man's reputation, as it has for Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, but the man himself could not assert that it was so while he lived.

It is important to take this into consideration in relationship to the plan of General Eisenhower to be silent on current problems until after he shall have been nominated. The assumption that it is possible to campaign by silence can only be an assertion of the leadership principle, namely, that General Eisenhower is a superman, over and above all other men and that he need make no explanations with regard to his desire to be President.

If General Eisenhower's managers sold him that idea, they have done him a grave injustice, because no man, in the United States, can be placed on such a pedestal. General Eisenhower, if he wants the Presidency, will have to explain what he believes, what he proposes to do, what he favors, what he opposes. Otherwise, men will say that he fears to speak out.

The suggestion has been made that when General Eisenhower comes to this country on June 1, he will go to Abilene, Kansas, where he will sit, waiting for delegations. Those who manage his campaign forget that a hundred or more newspapermen, photographers, radio newscasters, etc., will also be camping on his front yard, and that these men—and there will be a few women among them—will be asking questions daily and will be telegraphing and telephoning stories to their wire services and their newspapers and they will be speaking over the radio.

Abilene will become a busy spot for news, if Eisenhower settles there for a month. No politician will reach that town without the reporters knowing what he is there for.

And these reporters will ask the general lots of interesting questions. For instance, a southern reporter might want to know what General Eisenhower thinks of a national, compulsory FEPC. The general might answer that that would be left to the states, but such an answer would get him into hot water with large segments of the northern population.

A CIO reporter might ask him what he proposes to do with the Taft-Hartley Law, or national legislation for increased safety in mines, or whether cost-of-living escalator clauses should be compulsory.

Texas, California and Louisiana reporters will want his views on tideland oil.

An A. F. of L reporter might inquire into Eisenhower's ideas concerning the arresting of the inflation and the relationship of GATT (an international trade and tariff agreement) to certain American industries which under such tariff arrangements cannot compete with European industries exporting into the American market.

Some of us who are interested in foreign affairs might put a proposition such as this to Eisenhower:

Granted that the United States should give aid to nations with which we are associated, should that aid be granted on the basis of their necessities or on the basis of our capabilities? With a budget reaching $100,000,000,000, how much aid can we afford to grant without impairing our own economy? With a depreciated dollar, down to 53 cents, based on a 1935-39 average, can we afford further to depreciate our dollar by increasing our national debt and lowering our purchasing power?

The next President of the United States, whoever he may be, will have to deal with that one problem every day that he is in the White House. It is the crucial economic question of American survival and it cannot be dodged because the budget forces it upon us. Every candidate should be asked to discuss this, so that the people may judge how each one stands on it. Silence adds no wisdom to that.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

An old family physician was asked to make a thorough examination of a young man who was about to take out some life insurance and wanted to know if he was in fit condition to obtain a policy. After a thorough examination, the physician told he he was sound and would obtain the policy if he followed some simple suggestions.

Among the suggestions were that he go to the examining physician's office as early in the day as possible and without breakfast. When heart and blood pressure were being tested, he was to let his body go flaccid or limp so as not to raise the blood pressure or the pulse rate. If the examining physician found pulse or blood pressure high, he was to ask to read the morning paper for a few minutes in order to "calm down."

The idea behind this procedure was the fact that emotions and nervousness can throw out normal blood pressure readings.

During one of the sessions of the American Heart Association, Drs. Heinz Magendantz and Joseph Shortsleeve, Boston, recounted their experience in taking electrocardiograph readings. They found abnormal readings pointing to heart ailments in patients without obvious heart disease and no tachycardia (very rapid beating of the heart). When examination of these patients' heart and blood vessel systems by clinical, X-ray and laboratory means failed to show evidence of any heart disease, it seemed possible that anxiety was responsible for the changes in the electrocardiogram. Therefore, the electrocardiogram was repeated with reassurance and 15 minutes of bed rest. Surprisingly, this often lead to reversal or disappearance of the electrocardiograph abnormalities.

Clinical study of these patients revealed that many suffered from anxiety, neurocirculatory asthenia (irritable, nervous, soldier's heart) or related psychiatric (emotional) disorders.

These findings are in line with those of other investigators who have reported instances of abnormal electrocardiograms in fearful patients. The following factors have been blamed for such electrocardiograph abnormalities: alkalosis, imbalance of extracts of the glands, heightened sympathetic (central nerve) tone and others. Drs. Magendantz and Shortsleeve were able to correct these abnormalities by the simple treatment of rest and reassurance.

Call Me Mister

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — One of this column's first exposes of tax fraud four years ago was the story of two highway contractors, W. J. Hardy and F. McKenzie Davidson, who built the winding labyrinth of asphalt roads around the giant Pentagon building during the war and then sneaked out of paying taxes to Uncle Sam.

Following publication of their tax chiseling, the two gentlemen from Virginia went to jail—though not until after a suspiciously long delay.

A newspaperman always likes to believe that he's ahead of the news, that he's completely accurate and never omits anything important from a story. I am no exception. In this case, however, I find it necessary to confess that I did an incomplete job of reporting.

I thought I did justice to Hardy and Davison but I didn't. One of the most important parts of the story was omitted. This was the manner in which the two asphalt kings scraped up $35,000 in cash to make pay offs and buy their way out of a jail sentence.

The money was sealed in a brown manila envelope on Sept. 23, 1948, and delivered to their attorney, Howard Vesey. Of this amount, $10,000 was to be paid to the "Democratic campaign fund," and the $25,000 balance to a "Mr. X."

Telltale Letter

Davidson even wrote a letter about the pay-off plan. Dated April 29, 1949, and addressed to his attorneys, Davison's letter bluntly spelled out the tax fix as follows:

"When we employed the firm of Vesey, Prince and Clineburg, we paid a $5,000 retainer fee and later, after several conferences at the suggestion of Vesey, we put up in cash $35,000 to be used as follows: Vesey was to donate $10,000 to the Democratic campaign fund and the balance, $25,000, was to be paid to a certain Mr. X at that time, and who later appears in the picture as a Mr. Shepard, if, as, and when he succeeded in having our case killed as to criminal prosecution. No payment was to be made to anyone, Vesey included, until the case was definitely killed. This was very plainly set forth in the meetings and was distinctly understood by Vesey and all concerned, including Shepard."

That was the set-up by which the two road contractors planned to avoid serving jail sentences, and the most interesting thing is who was to pull the tax wires and get the $35,000 pay-off.

This column, investigating further, found that members of Mr. Vesey's staff admitted receipt of the envelope containing the $35,000. However, they said the money was never listed by the firm as a legal fee.

Investigation also showed that the mysterious "Mr. X" or Mr. Shepard appears to be James J. Shepard, Jr., a tax attorney. He admitted that he had been consulted in the Hardy-Davison case, but claimed that he participated in only one conference, decided they were guilty, and so advised them.

Kansas City Friend

Shepard vigorously denied any part in an attempted fix. Asked several times whether he had ever been offered $25,000—as stated in Davison's letter—he never answered. He claimed he got called into the case through a friend, Walter Maloney.

Maloney is a former Kansas City attorney who came to Washington shortly after Harry Truman became a senator from Missouri. He once served as judge of the Jackson county court, as did President Truman when he was a young protege of the Pendergast machine.

Maloney, queried about the case, said he and Shepard were supposed to split the fee 50-50, but in the end he was paid nothing. He denied using any influence, explained that the case "had gone too far, was in the penal division, and there was too much of a record on it."

When the above maneuvers didn't work, the two asphalt kings tried potent Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia. Byrd stated afterward that he gave them no aid.

In the end, efforts to pull wires could not stand up against the persistence of T-men and the spotlight of publicity. Though there were months of delay, and though U. S. Attorney George Humrickhouse in Richmond held off prosecution an usually long time, the two asphalt kings eventually got a couple of years in jail.

No matter what benevolent objective is being sought, the argument that the end justifies the means is not persuasive. It has been worn threadbare by the Fair Deal now as well as by the New Deal.

The Democratic party's situation grows no better due to Mr. Truman's blunders. Having declined to accept renomination, the President is not helping his party by his recent behavior on public policies.

The fact that Gov. Stevenson of Illinois has decided not to run is significant. Would anybody turn down a party nomination if victory were assured? The friends of Gov. Stevenson who want him to continue as the chief executive in Illinois would be happy, too, to have him become president, but what they really fear is that they may lose a Democratic governor and fail to elect a Democratic president.

Who, then, will take the risks of a Democratic nomination? Is Averell Harriman being seriously advanced by New York Democrats? Why do the political machines turn their backs on Sen. Kefauver, of Tennessee, who obviously has strength with the Democratic voters? Who else have the Democrats available?

Vice-President Barkley is in every sense except one a good candidate. He is an experienced legislator and a man of ability, familiar with national problems. But, despite his youthful appearance and vigor, the rank and file of the delegates will hesitate to name him because of his age—and unless MacArthur, who is seventy-two, is named on the Republican ticket, it isn't likely that Barkley will be chosen on the Democratic side.

The possibility still exists that the Democrats will turn to Truman in desperation. There are many Democratic officeholders who actually believe Truman's campaigning won for him in 1948 and that "he can do it again." As the Democratic aspirants are looked over in the next few weeks, many of the party managers will say to themselves they could at least nominate Truman and ask him to run again. Maybe if Taft is the nominee Mr. Truman might change his mind. That is the impression often conveyed in the past by his intimates. The unexpected sometimes happens in politics—just when everybody is certain it can't happen.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

After going back through the old laws of the 1770's of the City of Hudson I dipped into Van Buren's Ulster County Under the Dutch. Back in Nov., 1661, Stuyvesant promulgated various ordinances regulating the affairs of Kingston. One of them on fire prevention was that "no person should construct any plastered or wooden chimneys or kindle any fire in houses with walls or gables made of straw, or in the center on the floors of other houses covered with thatch unless there be a good, solid plank ceiling in the house." They also had the court appoint two fire wardens. The fire wardens had to inspect all the houses and chimneys about every two or three weeks and see that they were properly constructed and cleaned.

To protect their cornfields from neighbor's horses, cattle and hogs, everyone was required to keep a tight fence and gate. In fact, they had a pound, in which animals doing damages were to be restrained. The owner of the animals had to pay for the damages done. In this 1661 ordinance it was also stated: "Every person must fence his lot within four months and build on the same within one year, without selling or conveying to others, in default of which the court must grant the lot to others who are better disposed and more industrious."

In 1661, the stockade was beginning to decay and openings had been made here and there which remained unclosed during the night, "to the imminent danger of the place and advantage of the enemy." The sergeant was commanded to repair it. All openings had to be closed at night. "If anyone did not close and shut at night what he had opened during the day he should be fined for the first offense three guilders, for the second double as much and for the third, two pounds Flemish."

They also mention a new road was opened from the village to the new and undivided lands. It was dated Nov. 22, 1661, at which time it seems Stuyvesant was in Kingston. It said, "The same shall pass over the land of Everet Pels along the side of the kill, and over across the land where it is narrowest, over Jacob Jansen Stol's land, thence in a straight line through the great lot away unto the Dwars Kill." Now I wonder where that was, as it must be one of our main roads today. They asked that "Loose cattle or foals besides the mares should not be driven over the road under penalty of one pound Flemish for each animal so driven. A swing gate should be erected at the beginning of the road and always kept closed by a person appointed by the court for that purpose. He should receive for opening and closing the gate such sums as the owners of the farms should agree upon."

It seems the colonists were not careful in locking their gates, nor the gates of the stockade, and did not fix all the openings. They were being fined and otherwise penalized but still they kept on being careless. Another interesting item reads: "March 30, 1663, Stuyvesant issued an ordinance that all persons claiming land at Wildwyck, or in the new village, must apply for and receive deeds for the same within two months. They must also begin to cultivate and fence the same or forfeit the land."

There's a lot of indignation in our country over the corruption and loose handling of money in Washington. To be honest, though, it's sort of divided. A majority are mad clear through about the crookedness and then some others are not so much stirred up over all the money that's being thrown around as they're over not knowing how to get any of it.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Butter and lamb prices moved a little higher in the majority of retail food stores this week. But most spring vegetables were cheaper and many stores were reported planning to mark down prices on popular beef cuts and frying chicken as weekend specials.

Food men said the widespread floods in the midwest so far had not disrupted the normal distribution pattern of supplies outside the flood zone, except possibly to stimulate some precautionary buying of eggs.

They said an anticipated decline in egg prices after Easter had been nipped in the bud by this psychological effect of the floods, plus an announcement that the government will offer to buy a substantial amount of eggs for the school lunch program. Small rises in egg prices were reported in scattered sections.

Adjust Prices

Some brands of margarine and shortening were reduced one cent a pound by manufacturers as raw materials costs continued to decline. Many retailers adjusted their prices immediately. Some salad and cooking oils eased two cents a pint.

Beef rib roasts and both sirloin and porterhouse steaks were reduced this week in many markets to attract customers. In some big chains the price cuts amounted to as much as 16 cents a pound on the better steaks.

Several pork items were lower earlier this week but worked upward later. However, picnic hams, pork roasts, and bacon were still high on the good-buys lists of many markets. Frying chickens and fowl also were being widely featured for this weekend.

Heavier shipments put price pressure on fresh vegetables. Asparagus, snap beans, beets, cauliflower, golden heart celery, eggplant, escarole, new onions and peas all were lower in most places. Cucumbers were down sharply. Oranges, grapefruit and strawberries averaged slightly lower.

Cabbage, on the other hand, advanced abruptly as supplies from Florida dropped off seasonally and volume shipments from other sections lagged. Potatoes still were not plentiful enough to meet the demand and some Agriculture Department observers said the squeeze probably would not ease much before mid-May.

The department stressed pork, spring vegetables and dairy products as the week's most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying.

New price ceilings on bakery goods were expected to bring retail increases ranging from about 1 cent a loaf on bread to as much as 5 cents for the more expensive cakes. The bakers must compute the new ceilings by May 10 but can put them into effect at any time. The revised prices must not be more than 16 per cent higher than the top prices charged in 1949.

Frozen foods are going to play an increasingly important part in the food retailing business, in the opinion of hundreds of retailers surveyed by the National Association of Retail Grocers. The association said that of 859 retailers questioned, more than half expect they will at least double their present frozen food sales volume within the next five years, and more than 36 per cent expect to triple their present volume in that time.

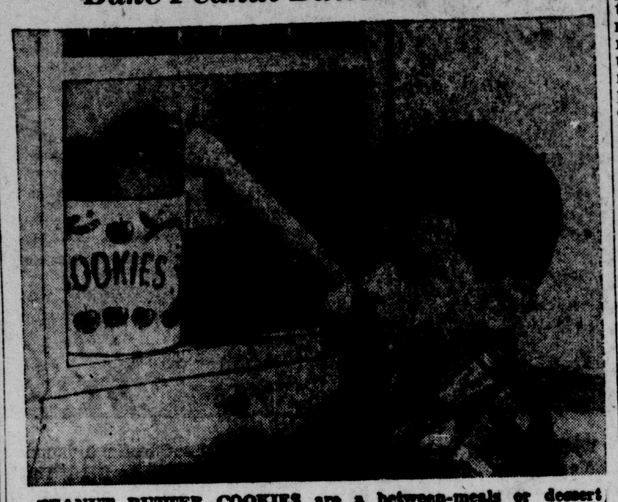
Bake Peanut Butter Cookies



PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES are a between-meals or dessert treat for that ever-hungry boy of the household.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Peanut butter is in abundant supply. So are children who love cookies. That indicates lots of peanut butter cookies for the young spring appeite.

Both the chunk-style peanut butter and the creamy style can be used to add nutrition and buttery-nut flavor. These recipes produce really first-rate treats thriftily.

Peanut Butter Refrigerator Cookies
(Makes 3-dozen cookies)

One-half cup shortening, ½ cup chunk-style peanut butter, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 2¼ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt.

In a mixing bowl, cream shortening and peanut butter together. Add sugar gradually, creaming until smooth. Add egg, orange rind and orange juice; blend thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients together and add in 2 parts. Mix thoroughly. Form into 2 rolls, 2-inches in diameter.

Wrap in waxed paper; twist ends together. Chill at least 3 hours. Cut into thin slices; place on greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 8-10 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Chocolate Peanut Butter Fruit Bars
(Makes 1½ dozen bars)

Three-quarters cup sifted cake flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, ¼ cup creamy peanut butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, ½ cup chopped raisins, ¼ cup chopped dates, 10 dried apricots, rinsed and chopped fine.

In a small bowl, sift together flour, baking powder and salt. In a large bowl, cream shortening and peanut butter until smooth; gradually add sugar, beating until fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla, blending thoroughly. Add melted chocolate, flour mixture and chopped dried fruits, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Cut into bars about 1-inch by 2-inches.

TOMORROW'S MENU

LUNCHEON: Codfish cakes, catsup, cole slaw, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked apples, peanut butter cookies, tea, milk.

100 Pickets March

New York, April 17 (AP)—One hundred pickets marched in front of Columbia University buildings today in the CIO Transport Workers Union drive to organize the university's cafeteria employes. Approximately 650 maintenance workers at the school, members of Local 241, TWU, have refused to cross picket lines. The university has asked students to make their own beds and to apply for part-time jobs in the emergency. A statement issued today by the Students for Democratic Action, which has 150 members, recommended that students "refuse to patronize the cafeterias until this issue is settled in a fair and responsible manner."

Orange Section for Sherbet

Fresh orange sections are delicious served around a ball of lemon sherbet; top the sherbet with a maraschino cherry and fresh mint leaves if you have them.

Ladies of the Grange will serve the banquet to members of the club and their friends at 7:15 p. m.

Dr. Turk is head of the animal husbandry department at the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell and is rated one of the best livestock and dairy husbandry men in the east. Last summer he made a six-month tour of Europe and has more than 1,700 pictures, some of which he will use in illustrating his talk. He will stress his trip through the lowland countries and Holland, home of the Holstein cow.

In announcing the plans and the speaker for the banquet, Lloyd Peavey of Warwick, chairman of the program committee, stated that the club was very fortunate to secure Dr. Turk.

The USO club is composed of Holstein breeders in Ulster, Sullivan and Orange counties. All persons interested in dairying and agriculture are invited to attend the banquet and may make reservations immediately with Andrew Burkinshaw at Pine Bush.

Lettuce Cups

If you want cup-shaped lettuce leaves to hold a salad mixture, cut out the core of the head of lettuce with a small sharp knife; then let cold water run into the opening and it will force the leaves apart. Dry the cup-shaped leaves well, of course, on a towel before chilling and using.

Rector Backed Again

New York, April 17 (AP)—The congregation of Brooklyn's Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church has again backed up its acting rector, The Rev. William Melish. The congregation voted unanimously, it was disclosed yesterday, to approve the action of the vestry in nominating Melish as permanent rector. The vestry's nomination already has been disapproved by the Rt. Rev. James Permette Dewolfe, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Long Island.

Bake Peanut Butter Cookies

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES are a between-meals or dessert treat for that ever-hungry boy of the household.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Peanut butter is in abundant supply. So are children who love cookies. That indicates lots of peanut butter cookies for the young spring appeite.

Both the chunk-style peanut butter and the creamy style can be used to add nutrition and buttery-nut flavor. These recipes produce really first-rate treats thriftily.

Peanut Butter Refrigerator Cookies
(Makes 3-dozen cookies)

One-half cup shortening, ½ cup chunk-style peanut butter, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 2¼ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt.

In a mixing bowl, cream shortening and peanut butter together. Add sugar gradually, creaming until smooth. Add egg, orange rind and orange juice; blend thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients together and add in 2 parts. Mix thoroughly. Form into 2 rolls, 2-inches in diameter.

Wrap in waxed paper; twist ends together. Chill at least 3 hours. Cut into thin slices; place on greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 8-10 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Chocolate Peanut Butter Fruit Bars
(Makes 1½dozen bars)

Three-quarters cup sifted cake flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, ¼ cup creamy peanut butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, ½ cup chopped raisins, ¼ cup chopped dates, 10 dried apricots, rinsed and chopped fine.

In a small bowl, sift together flour, baking powder and salt. In a large bowl, cream shortening and peanut butter until smooth; gradually add sugar, beating until fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla, blending thoroughly. Add melted chocolate, flour mixture and chopped dried fruits, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Cut into bars about 1-inch by 2-inches.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, soft-cooked eggs, hot cross buns, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Codfish cakes, catsup, cole slaw, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked apples, peanut butter cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Poached fish fillets with spiced tomato sauce, boiled potatoes, buttered peas, enriched margarine, celery and raw carrot sticks, fresh fruit gelatin, cookies, coffee, milk.

100 Pickets March

New York, April 17 (AP)—One hundred pickets marched in front of Columbia University buildings today in the CIO Transport Workers Union drive to organize the university's cafeteria employes. Approximately 650 maintenance workers at the school, members of Local 241, TWU, have refused to cross picket lines. The university has asked students to make their own beds and to apply for part-time jobs in the emergency. A statement issued today by the Students for Democratic Action, which has 150 members, recommended that students "refuse to patronize the cafeterias until this issue is settled in a fair and responsible manner."

Orange Section for Sherbet

Fresh orange sections are delicious served around a ball of lemon sherbet; top the sherbet with a maraschino cherry and fresh mint leaves if you have them.

Parents Are Held

Bridgnorth, Eng., April 17 (AP)—Police have charged a mother and father with manslaughter after finding their 38-year-old daughter dead in her empty room, her 77-pound body clothed in a piece of sacking. Doctors said examination of the stomach of the dead woman, Winifred Rutter, showed she had eaten only bits of paper, cloth, charred wood and potato peelings for a long time. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rutter, were accused of causing their daughter's death by "gradual starvation and neglect." The father said Winifred had been an imbecile since she was injured in a motorcycle accident 20 years ago. The mother said she "couldn't get food for her because my husband wouldn't work. He was lazy."

Magistrate—This man's watch was fastened in his pocket by a safety-pin. How did you manage to get it?

Prisoner—Well, Judge, I usually gets $10 for six lessons.

In these days of inflation it is virtually an insult to tell a girl she looks like a million dollars.

Daffy—My uncle is quite a guy. He not only is an Elk, but he's a Moose as well.

Taffy—Boy, I'll bet every zoo in the country is after him.

Whoever it was invented the English language started a lot of talk.

A North Carolina soldier who had never seen the ocean was placed as a sentinel on the Virginia shore and told to hold his ground. Some hours after, when the tide was in, the captain came looking for his guard, and found him up to his neck in water.

Captain—Why, you fool, what are you doing there?

Soldier—Captain, I'm holding the ground, but this creek's riz.

We know a girl with a million dollar smile. She only smiles at fellows with a million dollars.

Hokum—No getting around it. There's one fellow you have to take your hat off to.

Yokum—Who is that?

Hokum—The barber.

Children Have Fun At Easter Egg Hunt

Woodstock, April 17 — After three days of patiently waiting out the inclement weather, Joseph Forno's annual Easter egg hunt was held Wednesday noon under sunny skies and with a large contingent of the village youngsters participating. Although the traditional Easter finery and flowered bonnets were not in evidence the young egg hunters, clad in blue jeans and in general in the informal attire of vacation week, were nevertheless just as enthusiastic in gathering the bright colored eggs, as in other years.

Most of the 12 numbered eggs were discovered in record time but the troublesome number "nine" proved to be so well hidden that Carl Van Wagenen had to re-hide it before the contest could be completed and all of the prizes awarded.

Winners of the lucky numbered eggs were Linda Anne Guldenschuh, who was awarded the gold locket for finding the prized number twelve egg; and the eleven giant Gene Autrey balloons went to Billy Hamilton, Timmy Hasbrouck, Bobby Kaiser, Mary Hasbrouck, Andy Lee, Lynn Wright, Paul Townsend, Robert Foster, who won two balloons, Jeanie Hasbrouck and John Sheldon.

Since the egg hunt was centered around buildings on both sides of Tinker street, and the eager hunters were in constant movement across the highway, they were assisted by Cpl. Ray Dunn, who kept the through traffic well in hand for the duration of the hunt.

Businessmen Present Check to Girl Scouts

Woodstock, April 17—A check for $25 has been presented to the Girl Scouts by the Woodstock Business Association, it was announced at the organization's meeting Wednesday afternoon at the White Horse Inn, to assist the present local and county drive by the Girl Scouts.

A resolution was passed to set aside a certain amount in the yearly budget which will be used for contributions to the following local groups: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies, the recreation field committee, the library and the Woodstock Fire Company when and if needed. It was emphasized that these donations were to be given to groups primarily where children were involved.

Among the topics of discussion during the meeting was the possibility of holding a hobby or craft show at the recreation field, under a tent for about three days this summer. It will be further discussed at the next meeting. Sam Schwartz also brought up the possibility of building a town swimming pool for the benefit of summer vacationists and residents in the village.

In the near future, the Woodstock Business Association expects to formulate plans for a project to promote a "do your shopping in Woodstock" campaign.

In view of the opening of the new Woodstock bank next month, it was decided that the business association would participate in the official opening and welcome of the new venture. Plans for the program will be discussed at the meeting of the association to be held Monday, April 28, at Sam Schwartz's Town House at 8 p. m.

After 26 Years, Sculptor Makes Engaging Piece

Woodstock, April 17—Just doing something for the fun of it, provided that it is constructive, appears to bring a manifold number of rewards. Mack Shalaman, proprietor of the Willowbrook Lodge, located at Shultis Corners, is reaping the belated rewards of the craft of woodcarving which he learned in his native Hungary as a boy. It was not until this winter, however, after he had put his woodcarving tools away for over 26 years, that he took them out of storage again on impulse, to produce as engaging a piece of wood sculpture to be found anywhere.

About five years ago Shalaman cut down, on his property, an ancient and gnarled cherry tree, a portion of the trunk of which because of its interesting shape, he stored away in his garage. One day this winter, while in search of something to do in his spare moments, he came across the three-pronged piece of cherry wood.

Limbs Suggested Forms

The twisted limbs of the old tree trunk began to suggest animal and bird forms to his natural sculptor's instinct and he set to work. The whimsical little figures began to emerge, an owl's head here, a parrot there, a tiny bird's head its beak reaching for food from a naturally formed nest, and a bull-like head with funny horns eating an apple—all began to take shape. As Shalaman went along, feeling his way, sometimes delicately and sometimes ruthlessly through the old wood grains, nature itself kept suggesting new forms. Sometimes only an eye would be the starting point from which a bird's head and beak grew; a series of undulations suggested a hand stretching up from the base. The total result is a moving, rhythmic piece of satin-smooth sculpture, in which the rich color variations of the wood have been preserved and enhanced. The final achievement is the enormous amount of fun and satisfaction that many have experienced from viewing the work.

"What I like about it," Shalaman himself said with a twinkle, "is that there isn't another one like it."

Shalaman, who came to this country many years ago from Hungary, actually has had a long and expert association with woods of all kinds. Before coming to this village 16 years ago, he owned and operated a factory in New York which specialized in fine decorative custom made furniture and woodwork. He personally designed and made the wood panelling for Mrs. Edsel Ford's boudoir at her home at Gross Point, Detroit, Mich., and among other commissions created a fabulous ultra-modern apartment on Gracie Square for an aeronautical executive.

At the Willowbrook Lodge in the spacious living room and also in the colorful guest rooms are numerous examples of his fine period pieces, reproductions of many famous antiques to be found in the palaces of Europe. There is a basswood Chinese Chippendale mirror, two exquisite Venetian commodes, one of the only three pairs in this country done intantique white enhanced by delicate handpainted designs. When Bernard Gimbel commissioned Shalaman to execute 14 Louis XVI chairs for his home, he made two of the same design for himself, which are now also in his Woodstock home.

Perhaps Shalaman's greatest admirer of his most recent work, the piece of cherrywood sculpture, is his wife who finds in it an endless source of delight. "Several times," she said, "he almost quit working on it, but something made him keep on until he finished it."

Mrs. Shalaman certainly has good reason to be satisfied that he did finish it, for it is an impressive piece, standing with arresting dignity for all its fey and whimsical qualities, in an alcove of the main room of the Willowbrook Lodge, and is a constant source of enjoyment for their many guests.

Brighter Outlook

New York, April 17 (AP)—Negotiators in the key telephone dispute meet again today, with mediators somewhat cheered by a new turn in the peace talks. Parties in the Western Electric strike held a four-hour afternoon session yesterday, and Federal Mediator Walter A. Maggiolo said: "A number of issues have been settled but there are still several major issues in dispute."

716,000 Vets Back

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The Veterans Administration estimated today that 716,000 members of the armed services have returned to civilian life since the outbreak of the Korean war. It noted, too, that "more and more veterans disabled since the beginning of the Korean conflict" are turning to the VA for medical care and other disability benefits.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 17 (AP)—A short and sharp burst of selling today tumbled stock market prices, but the list steadied and recovered a good portion of extreme losses.

Oils and rails were hardest hit among major groups. Virtually all sections of the market were affected by the decline.

The fall extended to around 2 points among leaders at the outside. When the worst of the selling passed, the list spread out over a range of fractions to between 1 and 2 points lower to fractions to around a point higher.

Steels went through the selling in good shape with U. S. Steel losing not more than an eighth of a point. Rails and oils were prominent on the comeback trail.

Mrs. Shalaman certainly has good reason to be satisfied that he did finish it, for it is an impressive piece, standing with arresting dignity for all its fey and whimsical qualities, in an alcove of the main room of the Willowbrook Lodge, and is a constant source of enjoyment for their many guests.

Brighter Outlook

New York, April 17 (AP)—Negotiators in the key telephone dispute meet again today, with mediators somewhat cheered by a new turn in the peace talks. Parties in the Western Electric strike held a four-hour afternoon session yesterday, and Federal Mediator Walter A. Maggiolo said: "A number of issues have been settled but there are still several major issues in dispute."

716,000 Vets Back

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The Veterans Administration estimated today that 716,000 members of the armed services have returned to civilian life since the outbreak of the Korean war. It noted, too, that "more and more veterans disabled since the beginning of the Korean conflict" are turning to the VA for medical care and other disability benefits.

Ronald C. Wolven, who recently enlisted for duty in the U. S. Marine Corps, is the sixth son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolven of 50 Van Buren street, who has served the United States during World War 2 and the present conflict.

Another son, making seven in all, served his country from 1934 through 1937 in an army uniform.

Wolven left for Parris Island for recruit training April 2 of this year.

His six brothers, one of whom was killed in action during World War 2, served in the Marine Corps, Army, U. S. Air Force and the Navy.

Killed in Europe

Llewellyn Richard Wolven, who entered service in December, 1943, died of wounds received in action October 13, 1944.

He was assigned to overseas duty July, 1944, and was an infantry machine gunner. Llewellyn Richard Wolven was wounded in battle near Nancy and Metz and later died.

Van Valkenburgh who entered service in 1934 and was discharged in 1937 after serving two years in Hawaii and a year in this country; and Donald Van Valkenburgh, entered service January, 1943 and later served 44 months in the European theatre of operations.

The air force veteran is Lauren Van Valkenburgh who entered service in 1942 and was discharged in 1946. He served with the medical corps of the air force.

Clifford Charles Wolven completed the family's contribution to all three major services when he entered the navy September, 1944, and received his discharge in July 1946. He served with the Atlantic Fleet.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 17 (AP)—A short and sharp burst of selling today tumbled stock market prices, but the list steadied and recovered a good portion of extreme losses.

Oils and rails were hardest hit among major groups. Virtually all sections of the market were affected by the decline.

The fall extended to around 2 points among leaders at the outside. When the worst of the selling passed, the list spread out over a range of fractions to between 1 and 2 points lower to fractions to around a point higher.

Steels went through the selling in good shape with U. S. Steel losing not more than an eighth of a point. Rails and oils were prominent on the comeback trail.

Private Is Indicted For Murder of Sergeant

Trenton, N. J., April 17 (AP)—In what was described as a history-making procedure, a federal grand jury yesterday indicted an army private whom it accused of murdering a sergeant at Fort Dix.

The soldier, Pvt. Robert L. Williams was charged with the fatal beating of Sgt. Herman Weiner of Philadelphia last Feb. 3.

Federal Judge Philip Forman told the panel they were "making history" with the indictment, which he said was the second murder true bill returned by a federal grand jury in the New Jersey district since it was set up in 1789.

Williams, 28, of New Paltz, N. Y., was arrested with Pfc. Fio J. Rastellini, 20, as they were driving in New Paltz with Weiner's car. Each of the soldiers denied any knowledge of the beating-death.

Rastellini is being held as a material witness in the case. Weiner, 52, was found dead in his barracks bed.

'Shops' Then Robs

New York, April 17 (AP)—A robber who "shopped" before he stole cost a fur store a pile of minks. Tuesday, a young man "shopped" at the Reckler and Lamazor fur shop. He said he wanted a coat for his wife but couldn't make up his mind. Yesterday he return—with a gun and two confederates. The trio bound two models and a salesman and made off with a bundle of minks, including a $1,500 pastel job and a $750 wild mink the "shopper" admired the day before. An estimate of the entire loot was not immediately available.

MP's Dislike System

Panmunjom, Korea, April 17 (AP)—Military police stationed at this armistice conference site are mighty unhappy over the army's new rotation system. Although they are living in "No-Man's-Land" between the battle lines, they build up rotation credits at the rate of only two points a month. It would take 18 months here to acquire the 36 points necessary for a trip home.

Shooting Follows Dispute

New York, April 17 (AP)—A Queens auto laundry owner was held on a felonious assault charge today after a Chester, Va., woman was wounded in the leg by a bullet during an argument over the laundry's service. Held on the charge was Morris Rosen, 46. The wounded woman was Mrs. Miriam Dracker.

The Mature Parent

Why Youngsters Mistake 'Misery' for 'Love'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A mother, distressed over her daughter's broken engagement, writes me: "She isn't sleeping or eating well. He was a nice boy, but he and my daughter had bitter quarrels. She believes that marriage would have solved this. Maybe she is right. . . . "

This mother seems to agree with her daughter that the satisfaction of two young people's physical needs for each other is all that is necessary for a good marriage.

Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie, clinical professor of psychiatry at Yale University's School of Medicine, writes: "Choosing a mate is one of the most confused steps that a human being takes in life . . . because each of the pair is ignorant of the unconscious purposes that determine their respective choices."

So I suggest that this mother get to work to discover why her child is so attracted to a young man who makes her miserable. Let her look deeper than her daughter's physical attachment to him. Look for the real need that may be driving her to pursue suffering.

What does this boy represent to her that she is willing to pay the price of constant tension? Does he offer her a chance to prove something about herself? Does he mean prestige in her family? Does he mean reassurance that she is desirable? Intelligent? More attractive than a sister?

We should be immeasurably grateful to psychiatry's insights into human motives for making unhappy relationships. Now perhaps we can try to help children understand why they insist on "falling in love" with people who make them suffer. We can begin to prove to them how often, instead of loving, they are really seeking to use the subjects of their infatuations to prove something about themselves.

The Hunger for Self-Justification

I knew a young man whose mother had been noted for her beautiful red hair. He "fell in love" with a red-headed girl. Though he was far too impressed with the shade of his young lady's hair, nobody related this obsession to a dependent boy's need for a wife who resembled his mother.

His marriage broke, because his wife, despite her red hair, was not his mother and wanted a husband, not a child.

I know a girl whose musical family was annoyed with her because she had no talent for music. So she married a violinist old enough to be her father, just to show them some people didn't think she was so stupid. Since her husband wished to be loved for himself, instead of for his ability to play harmonics, their marriage, too, ended.

Young people's attachments are not necessarily motivated by the physical hungers to which we credit them, but are far too often motivated by hungers for prestige and self-justification.

The family feud we blame for the deaths of Romeo and Juliet may not be guilty at all. That great realist, William Shakespeare, may have given us the real motive. It might have been young Romeo's need to reassurance himself of his desirability after a jilting by his original young lady, Rosalind.

The "love" that brings Joan home crying after a date may be insecure Joan's frustration at failing to get results with a boy who "doesn't like women." The "love" that makes Jim so irritable may be just his fear of losing a girl who is better looking than a sister of whom he is jealous.

We haven't known as much as we should about this thing called "love." Now we can begin to find out about it so as to help our children distinguish between the brass and the gold.

Marlborough Sets Defense Meeting

A community mass meeting for civilian defense will be held Monday, April 21, in the Marlborough Central School at 8 p. m.

The meeting, sponsored by the Marlborough public health nursing committee, has been designed to teach adult citizens how to save their lives and the lives of his family and neighbors in the event of atomic disaster.

Participating in the program will be Stanley Sutton, township director of civil defense; Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of the Ulster County Health Department; and Allan L. Hanstein, director of the Ulster county civil defense program. The film, Survival Under Atomic Attack, will be shown. Mrs. Fred C. Woolsey, president of the nursing committee will preside, and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

There will be an opportunity at the meeting to sign up for the Self-Help Neighbor Help course. This training course is designed to teach the average citizen the basic facts and skills he needs to help himself, his family and his neighbors until trained medical attention can be obtained. This knowledge and skill would be beneficial in times of atomic disaster or in times of emergency in the household.

This mother seems to agree with her daughter that the satisfaction of two young people's physical needs for each other is all that is necessary for a good marriage.

Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie, clinical professor of psychiatry at Yale University's School of Medicine, writes: "Choosing a mate is one of the most confused steps that a human being takes in life . . . because each of the pair is ignorant of the unconscious purposes that determine their respective choices."

So I suggest that this mother get to work to discover why her child is so attracted to a young man who makes her miserable. Let her look deeper than her daughter's physical attachment to him. Look for the real need that may be driving her to pursue suffering.

What does this boy represent to her that she is willing to pay the price of constant tension? Does he offer her a chance to prove something about herself? Does he mean prestige in her family? Does he mean reassurance that she is desirable? Intelligent? More attractive than a sister?

We should be immeasurably grateful to psychiatry's insights into human motives for making unhappy relationships. Now perhaps we can try to help children understand why they insist on "falling in love" with people who make them suffer. We can begin to prove to them how often, instead of loving, they are really seeking to use the subjects of their infatuations to prove something about themselves.

The Hunger for Self-Justification

I knew a young man whose mother had been noted for her beautiful red hair. He "fell in love" with a red-headed girl. Though he was far too impressed with the shade of his young lady's hair, nobody related this obsession to a dependent boy's need for a wife who resembled his mother.

His marriage broke, because his wife, despite her red hair, was not his mother and wanted a husband, not a child.

I know a girl whose musical family was annoyed with her because she had no talent for music. So she married a violinist old enough to be her father, just to show them some people didn't think she was so stupid. Since her husband wished to be loved for himself, instead of for his ability to play harmonics, their marriage, too, ended.

Young people's attachments are not necessarily motivated by the physical hungers to which we credit them, but are far too often motivated by hungers for prestige and self-justification.

The family feud we blame for the deaths of Romeo and Juliet may not be guilty at all. That great realist, William Shakespeare, may have given us the real motive. It might have been young Romeo's need to reassurance himself of his desirability after a jilting by his original young lady, Rosalind.

The "love" that brings Joan home crying after a date may be insecure Joan's frustration at failing to get results with a boy who "doesn't like women." The "love" that makes Jim so irritable may be just his fear of losing a girl who is better looking than a sister of whom he is jealous.

We haven't known as much as we should about this thing called "love." Now we can begin to find out about it so as to help our children distinguish between the brass and the gold.

Marlborough Sets Defense Meeting

A community mass meeting for civilian defense will be held Monday, April 21, in the Marlborough Central School at 8 p. m.

The meeting, sponsored by the Marlborough public health nursing committee, has been designed to teach adult citizens how to save their lives and the lives of his family and neighbors in the event of atomic disaster.

Participating in the program will be Stanley Sutton, township director of civil defense; Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of the Ulster County Health Department; and Allan L. Hanstein, director of the Ulster county civil defense program. The film, Survival Under Atomic Attack, will be shown. Mrs. Fred C. There will be an opportunity at the meeting to sign up for the Self-Help Neighbor Help course. This training course is designed to teach the average citizen the basic facts and skills he needs to help himself, his family and his neighbors until trained medical attention can be obtained. This knowledge and skill would be beneficial in times of atomic disaster or in times of emergency in the household.

Family Awaits Word of Riot Hostage

The family of Charles H. Smith, a guard held as hostage by rioting prisoners in the New Jersey State Prison at Trenton, N. J., await word in their Trenton home. At left is Mrs. Smith, the guard's wife. With her are daughter Jean, sons Raymond and Louis (right). In foreground is another son, Richard. Smith, another guard and two prison print shop instructors were seized as hostages when 68 rioting convicts barricaded themselves in the institution's print shop. Smith is suffering from a heart condition and the convicts permitted medicine to be handed through a window. (AP Wirephoto).

Rotary Hears Talk On Crushed Stone, Conference Plans

An interesting talk on the crushed stone industry and announcement of plans for the district Rotary conference to be held here next week highlighted the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting on Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

J. Reed Callanan, president of the Callanan Road Improvement Company, traced the early history of the crushed stone industry, the methods used before the advent of the steam shovel and the total output of the industry prior to the vast highway improvement program in this country and in other countries.

A three-time president of the National Crushed Stone Association, the speaker stressed the importance of the association to the industry. At the meetings, he said, valuable information to the operation of the business is gleaned through the experiences of the individual members. One of the recurring topics for general discussion is safety, he asserted.

The safety program in effect during the past several years has resulted in great improvement throughout the industry. He attributed as one of the main factors in the safety record the employe-employer group participation in the safety plans. Speaking of his concern, he stated that during the past year there was not a lost time accident.

Rotary Conference

Plans for the 1952 Rotary District Conference, which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday and Thursday, April 23 and 24, have been completed, Ernest A. Steuding, chairman of the conference, announced Wednesday.

Some 300 Rotarians representing the 52 clubs in the 255th district, which covers East Central New York state, are expected to attend the conference here.

The principal speaker will be William C. Rastetter, Jr., of Fort Wayne, Indiana. He is a past director and member of the districting committee of Rotary International. He will address the group at the opening luncheon next Wednesday.

The purpose of the conference, President J. Dean Dykstra explained is to review the service work of the Rotary Clubs in the district and to plan ways of increasing the effectiveness of their future activities.

The program also will include talks by Rachel Andresen, executive secretary, Ann Arbor Council of Churches and Youth for Understanding, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Dr. Wesley Northridge Haines, assistant to the president of Keuka College.

Mrs. William E. Rylance, Rotary Ladies' chairman, has announced plans for the ladies' program which will include a luncheon at Holiday Inn and a tour of the Ashokan Reservoir.

There are now more than 7,400 Rotary Clubs in 83 countries and geographical regions. While the 300 district Rotarians meet here, many of the 352,000 Rotarians in all parts of the world also will be holding their district conferences.

Use Sound Defense For Good Results

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If you defend by general principles, you'll probably do well on most hands. The familiar rules usually work. It's usually right to lead through strength, up to weakness; or to play second hand low but third hand high; and so on.

One of the rules that most defenders follow is: "Don't lead a suit that dummy can trump." This is a sound rule most of the time because declarer has to lead that suit himself, and there's no advantage for the defenders in doing declarer's work for him.

The hand shown today illustrates an important exception to the rule. You must sometimes lead a suit that dummy can trump—when your purpose is to kill one of declarer's tricks.

When the hand was actually played, West opened the nine of spades, and East won with the king. He cashed the ace of spades and then hopefully led his singleton club.

This was not an effective defense. South stepped up with the ace of clubs, drew two rounds of trumps, and then discarded two clubs from dummy on the queen and jack of spades. This enabled him to ruff his low clubs in dummy, making his contract.

After East had won two spade tricks, he knew (or should have known) that South had the queen and jack. West's opening lead had been his highest spade, and since West had led the nine, the higher spades were bound to be in the South hand.

At the third trick East should have led another spade. West would ruff and dummy would have to over-ruff. This play would kill one of declarer's spade tricks, so that he could later discard only one club from dummy. He would therefore have to lose a club trick sooner or later.

There was no need for East to lead clubs or to try to cash a high heart. If declarer had a losing heart, he could do nothing with it; East would win it eventually. If declarer had a losing club, however, the way to make sure of the defensive club trick was to kill a spade trick.

Ike Stronger in Jersey As Last Votes Come In

Newark, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Election officials today counted the few remaining New Jersey presidential primary ballots—the last thin trickle in a flood of votes that gave the nod to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Returns from all but 13 of the state's 3,840 districts have been tabulated, catapulting the general to a 158,000-vote victory over Sen. Robert A. Taft, and assuring him of 31 of New Jersey's 38 Republican delegates to the national convention. Four delegates are backing Taft; one is for Stassen and two are still undecided.

The GOP primary tally, with 13 districts still unreported, is: Eisenhower 385,170; Taft 226,512, Harold E. Stassen 23,029.

The Eisenhower-Taft battle overshadowed the Democratic primary, in which Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee polled 160,000 votes against a negligible amount received by a few scattered write-in candidates.

Despite his surprisingly large endorsement in Tuesday's primary, the Tennessean has no strong claim on the state's 32-vote delegation to the Democratic convention, since party leaders here insist the group should remain uncommitted.

Protect UN Name

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—It is now against the law for business to use the name or abbreviation of the United Nations for commercial purposes in New York state without permission of the organization's secretary-general. The new law does not affect corporate or trade names now in use. The measure, signed yesterday by Gov. Dewey, stemmed from a protest by the UN of the use of its name by a barbershop near the headquarters in New York city. Violation of the law is a misdemeanor, punishable by not more than one year in jail, a maximum $500 fine, or both.

Practice of Medicine Arose From Ancient Civilizations

The first practice of the profession of medicine arose out of the ancient civilization of Egypt, Babylon, Persia, India and Greece. It was closely allied with religion and often was dispensed through temples.

But with the Christian religion came its first great development, the later establishment of hospitals. Religion and hospitals have gone hand-in-hand through the centuries. When religion was blighted, hospitals deteriorated. Even today, many of our finest hospitals are church-related.

This is the flowering of social consciousness of this modern era when we expect Good Samaritans.

Establish Charity Hospitals

At the famous Council of Nicaea in 325 AD, the bishops were ordered to establish hospitals. Churchmen were told: "Almsgiving relieves the burden of sin" and "the poor are the healers of your wounds (sins)." So the almsgiving of those days was neither true charity nor social service but a path to salvation.

In 375, St. Ephraim founded a 300-bed charity hospital in Edessa. St. John the Almsgiver, established one in Alexandria in 610 and others were set up in Ephesus, Constantine, etc. The Moslems built them at Bagdad, Cairo and in Moorish Spain.

In Western Europe the first hospital for the sick was founded by Fabriola in 400 to "gather in the sick from the streets and nurse the wretched sufferers wasted with poverty and disease." The bishop of Paris started the famous Hotel Dieu in Paris in 660.

St. Augustine of Canterbury brought the teachings of St. Benedict to England in 596 along with the precept that "guests are to be received as if they were Christ himself."

Forbade Blood-letting

In fact, the early hospitals were more resting places for travelers than anything else.

The Crusades of 1096 to 1291 brought the establishment of many hospitals to care for those going to the Holy War for Jerusalem. This was believed to be a sure way to heaven.

In Europe, some 19,000 hospitals abounded in the 13th century. The usual pattern was a central infirmary-almshouse for the aged, helpless and sick, hostels for pilgrims near the gates, and the leper or "Lazar" houses outside.

Church councils of the 14th and 15th centuries forbade bloodletting by the monastics, so a new profession of tonsors, or barbers, sprang up and bloodletting came into being and undoubtedly took the lives of many who otherwise would have lived. Also in this period, the church became rich and powerful politically. Corruption crept in and the revenues of hospitals went to the clergy and laymen. Religious nursing groups were subordinated and often only drunken prostitutes would work in hospitals. Society, the church and hospitals, fell on evil days.

Hospitals Lacked Humanity

Denmark in 1757 opened the first hospital founded on a truly social and charitable spirit.

True to the words of Leviticus, for 30 centuries the leper was regarded as a social outcast and forced to "dwell without (outside) the camp." Even the church tossed dirt on his feet and proclaimed: "Be thou dead to the world," denying the victim even its requiem.

Suddenly abating in the 15th century, it was replaced as a scourge by venereal diseases. In the light of treatment of the leper and VD patient it appears that the hospital of the Middle Ages largely was to clear the streets of loathsome and disgusting persons. It is fair to say that until 100 years ago, there was little of humanity in the hospital.

First in New World

First hospital in the New World was founded by Cortez in Mexico City in 1519 and still exists under the name of Jesus of Nazareth Hospital.

In revolt against conditions in Europe, St. Vincent de Paul, in 17th century Paris, with St. Louis de Marillac, started the Sisters of Charity to carry on humanitarian progress, including nursing.

In response to a call, three nurses from the Sisters of St. Augustine and three from the Ursuline nuns sailed for Quebec and set up an emergency hospital to care for victims of a smallpox epidemic. This was the second hospital in North America. The Hotel Dieu in Quebec still carries on.

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—New York state has set aside $49,470 to purchase and maintain as a memorial in a Virginia burial ground where lie New Yorkers who died in the Civil War battle of second Bull Run or Manassas Plains. Gov. Dewey signed a bill yesterday appropriating the funds and directing the Joint Legislative Committee on Historic Sites to acquire the land and arrange with the National Park Service for maintenance. property is in Prince William county, near the Manassas National Battlefield Park.

Blind Sale May 2

Residents of Kingston and vicinity are urged to help the blind to help themselves by patronizing the Sale for the Blind, to be held May 2 through 15 at 642½ Broadway. Mrs. Harris Brown is serving as general chairman of the Kingston Sale, which is sponsored by the local Lions Club. The sightless are the only beneficiaries of this sale, as the selling price of each article of merchandise is made up of the cost of materials plus the wages paid the blind worker.

Study Reports on New Polio Discovery

Dr. David Bodian (left) of Johns Hopkins University and Dr. Dorothy M. Horstmann of Yale University study reports they made in New York that polio strikes first in the blood stream instead of the nerves. The discovery, already used to prevent polio in monkeys and chimpanzees, may mean the end of the dread disease is in sight. The reports were made at a meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Strong for McMahon

New Haven, Conn., April 17 (AP)—Connecticut Democrats were officially launched today on a campaign to win the presidential nomination for U. S. Senator Brien McMahon (D-Conn.). They insisted, furthermore, that it was not merely a routine "favorite son" endorsement or a smokescreen to ease him into the nomination for vice-president, but an all-out effort to put the Norwalk lawyer in the White House. The State Central Committee last night unanimously approved a resolution endorsing McMahon.

Child Health Clinic

Two more child health conferences were announced today by the Ulster County Health Department. These are scheduled for the clinic rooms in Kingston, 97 Broadway, April 22 from 10 to 12 noon and on April 23 from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Woodstock Health Center.

Fees Are Set for State Camps in Adirondacks

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—Vacationists who pitch camp at public sites in the Adirondack and Catskill forest preserves this summer must pay fees of 50 cents a night or $3 a week.

Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday that constantly increasing costs of maintaining and operating the campsites had "made it imperative to derive some revenue from them."

The fees also will apply to campers on state-owned islands in Lake George. There still will be no charge for various day uses of the sites, such as bathing and picnicking.

The fees must be paid for each individual camping site, occupancy of which is limited to six persons.

Duryea said the camping charges would be in effect only when caretakers were on duty, usually from just before Memorial Day until Sept. 15.

One person in every 10 in the United States received some kind of Red Cross assistance or training in 1951.

Ike Stronger in Jersey As Last Votes Come In

Newark, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Election officials today counted the few remaining New Jersey presidential primary ballots—the last thin trickle in a flood of votes that gave the nod to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Returns from all but 13 of the state's 3,840 districts have been tabulated, catapulting the general to a 158,000-vote victory over Sen. Robert A. Taft, and assuring him of 31 of New Jersey's 38 Republican delegates to the national convention. Four delegates are backing Taft; one is for Stassen and two are still undecided.

The GOP primary tally, with 13 districts still unreported, is: Eisenhower 385,170; Taft 226,512, Harold E. Stassen 23,029.

The Eisenhower - Taft battle overshadowed the Democratic primary, in which Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee polled 160,000 votes against a negligible amount received by a few scattered write-in candidates.

2 Portraits on One Canvas

Heart Disease Deaths

Glascow, Scotland (AP) — More Scotsmen are dying from heart disease, but the tuberculosis death rate shows a substantial drop. The Scottish Health Services Council reported that in the last 20 years there has been a "real, substantial, and progressive increase in coronary heart disease," and particularly in the number of deaths it causes at ages under 60. Coronary heart disease accounted for just under one per cent of all deaths in 1931. In 1948 the figure was 8.5 per cent.

Flood Waters Rise

ed and abetted by the Mississippi, the Milk in Montana and the Red River of the North in Minnesota, has already put in the history books the story of one of the greatest flood disasters of record.

The Red Cross estimates that in the flooded areas of the four marauding streams there are over 100,000 persons dispossessed, the majority in need of rehabilitation help and many more to be in the same need if the Missouri can break the Omaha-Council Bluffs defense behind which three-quarters of the population of the Bluffs feel the needle of fear.

So it was watch and wait, the patrol night and day, in the midwest.

And while this war of attrition went on, there were two demands for speed that brought President Truman, senators, congressmen and governors hustling into Omaha to talk about the needs for stopping these rampages in the future and need for aiding those whose homes in the cities or whose farms are already, or are to be, scenes of misery.

The President flew over the area where the Missouri has ripped and torn at the land and summed it up "it's worse than I thought it would be."

Appeals to Governors

Then he appealed to the seven midwest governors who were here to join in a fight for flood control projects he said were threatened by a congressional "economy block" that has wiped out some of the most important projects he recommended for this control.

The President, the senators and the governors heard army chief of engineers Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick state that if the 1946 plans recommended by the engineers were all in operation now these river rampages "could have been avoided."

President Truman expressed his position as "I want to get the job done. There is no sense in fooling around with it. This is the breadbasket of the nation and this bread-basket should be protected."

When the President finished, Nebraska's Republican Governor Val Peterson commented it wasn't the governors who needed a pep talk on flood control—it was Congress, and Sen. Hickenlooper (R.-Iowa) said he thought the President's picture of the situation was such that it is certain to get the attention of Congress.

Later, the governors agreed there was nothing in the way of new moves needed from them now. In addition to Peterson, there were Stevenson, Illinois; Kohler, Wisconsin; Beardsley, Iowa; Brunsdale, North Dakota; Sigurd Anderson, South Dakota and C. Elmer Anderson, Minnesota.

Winona Danger Point

On the Mississippi the new danger point appeared to be Winona. The "Ol' Miss'" had crested at St. Paul where 5,000 were homeless and damage ran upwards of $10,000,000. Little further damage was expected in the big city and crews hastened down stream to Winona. The job there was to hold a dike, which, if breached, would flood a third of the city.

Further downstream, both Wisconsin and Iowa points got set for expected record river heights.

The Red river of the North's greatest drive was against the Fargo-Noorhead area in North Dakota and Minnesota. Here a hard fight was being waged to save the Fargo Veterans' Hospital, now housing some 200 patients.

The Milk in Montana had caused an estimated $2,941,000 damage, army engineers said and the Minnesota was still over flood stage at Mankato, Minn., and at Minneapolis where it joins the Mississippi.

Three Reasons

of Word War 2 combat veterans involuntarily to help fight the Korean war.

"Many reserve officers," he said, "had to leave good paying jobs. Many now have families of two or three children.

"All of these factors combined to make it appear to them that it would be better to refuse to fly. Part is fear of flying, part is a lack of incentive and part because they were pushed into it."

Optometrists to Meet in New York

The Eastern States Optometric Congress will meet at the Statler Hotel in New York city on April 19 to 21 inclusive. This annual event will bring together some of the foremost teachers in optometric subjects, whose theme this year will be "The Visual Problems of School Children."

Dr. A. M. Skeffington, who was just conferred the degree of doctor of humanities, will lecture on the "Posture Factor in Seeing." Professor Samuel Renshaw of Ohio State University, whose speciality is psychological optics, will give the results on "Some Recent Studies of Visual Problems." Dr. James J. Gibson of Cornell University will have an interesting presentation on the "Relation of Vision to the Surrounding Area."

In addition to the regular lectures there will be classes held on the latest developments in visual training. The congress is open to all optometrists whether or not they are members of the Hudson Valley Optometric Society.

Any optometrist desiring to make reservation can contact S. Rudisch, 281 Fair street, who is in charge of arrangements for the Hudson Valley area.

2 Portraits on One Canvas

Heart Disease Deaths

Glascow, Scotland (AP) — More Scotsmen are dying from heart disease, but the tuberculosis death rate shows a substantial drop. The Scottish Health Services Council reported that in the last 20 years there has been a "real, substantial, and progressive increase in coronary heart disease," and particularly in the number of deaths it causes at ages under 60. Coronary heart disease accounted for just under one per cent of all deaths in 1931. In 1948 the figure was 8.5 per cent.

Wouldn't Treat

In 1777, James Madison, who later became President of the United States, refused to treat the electors to rum and punch, after the custom of the time, and consequently, was not re-elected to his state convention.

Poor Maturity

Wild rabbits are heavy breeders, but only about 20 per cent of the young born each spring and summer live to reach the late fall hunting season.

Silk worm eggs are very small, about 100 of them weighing one grain.

Ulster Grange Names Committee for Youth Census Study in Area

The Granges throughout the country have been called upon this year to accentuate the youth recognition program. In conjunction with this project, George M. Hard, master of Ulster Grange 969, appointed a committee to take a census, and study the needs of the young people in the Ulster Park and surrounding areas.

The action was taken at a regular meeting of the organization Wednesday evening in the Grange Hall in Ulster Park. The committee will include the Mmes. C. C. DuMond, Jr., Mrs. Mabel Coons, teacher in the Union Center school, and Mrs. Opta Gaudette. The findings and recommendations of this committee will be made at the first meeting in May.

Also in line with this movement Mr. Hard called to the members' attention the youth rally sponsored by the Pomona Youth Committee, of which Dan Barnhart is chairman, which will be held in the Rosendale Grange hall on Wednesday, April 23, at 8 p. m. All young people in the county will be welcomed at this rally. Grange members, too, have been invited to attend.

Special Reports

Reports were given by the building and the service and hospitality committees. In the former, Charles Warren, chairman, described certain necessary repairs to the hall and it is expected these will be attended to promptly. Mrs. George M. Hard, chairman of the latter committee, proposed competitive projects, including baking, sewing and essay contests. Many of the members expressed their willingness to participate in the competitions. Additional information will be announced in the near future.

Community Service

Of special interest to the members at this time is the community service project. A roll call of the membership provided several ideas on this score, with landscaping and generally improving the hall and grounds, as well as solving the problem of indiscreet garbage disposal, taking the lead. It was disclosed that in and around the vicinity of Ulster Park, as in other communities, unknown persons are disposing of refuse along the public roads. To find a solution, it was decided to contact members of the town board in the Town of Esopus.

A timely program was presented by Harold V. Story, lecturer, who chose as his theme, Better Gardens for Better Living. The grange members participated and an interesting and educational discussion resulted.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed the business meeting. The committee included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cameron and Mrs. Jason Sahler.

At Wedding Reception

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP J. NACCARATO

At a reception in Tommie's restaurant following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Naccarato cut their wedding cake. The bride is the former Miss Alice Louise Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, 298 Yarmouth street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Naccarato, 83 Harwich street. The couple was married Sunday, April 13, at 2 p. m. in the Reformed Church of the Comforter. The Rev. Forrest Prindle, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. (Kinkade and Hutton photo)

Ulster Park Man Fined On Hit-Run Charge

Eric Breder, 51, of Ulster Park, whom the sheriff's office today reported was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, was fined $50 when he appeared before Justice Francis E. Palen of the town of Esopus.

When arraigned, Breder pleaded guilty to the charge and later paid the fine.

The arrest followed the report that an automobile, driven by George S. Bigler, 31, of Connelly, was struck Sunday at 9:15 p. m. on Route 9W at Ulster Park. The report added that the car continued without stopping after sideswiping the Bigler vehicle.

Breder, the sheriff's office said, was picked up this morning. He was driving a pickup truck owned by the Ulster Park Provision Co., at the time of the accident.

Control Action Put Off

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today put off until tomorrow a possible decision on what to do about the government's wage-price control program. Not enough members showed up to do business. Sen. Capehart of Indiana, senior Republican on the committee, said there was "no discussion of the situation at all" at today's brief session. Old Timers Feted By Masonic Lodge

Honoring the "old timers," members of Kingston Lodge, 10, F and AM, Tuesday night greeted and saluted members of the order who have been in Masonry for a quarter of a century or more.

Leslie S. Lyons, past master of No. 10, was chairman of the committee which arranged the program for the evening, and Edward H. Franz, master, presented the guests to the membership after greeting them as they were introduced and inviting the honored members to be seated near the East.

Four members with over 50 years of Masonry were presented by their sponsor, Elwyn C. Davis. They were Ralph D. Clearwater who was raised in 1897, Roy Hume 1900, Romery V. Colclough, 1901 and J. Allen Wood 1902.

Thirteen members with over 40 years of membership were presented to Master Franz by Claude Gosline. There were 31 members with from 30 to 40 years of membership presented by Hugh R. Elwyn and 11 with membership from 25 to 30 years presented by Alwin Feurstein.

Past Masters Attend

There were two past district deputy Grand Masters present at the meeting, R. E. Leighton and Roger H. Loughran. District Deputy Grand Master Harry Brown of Wawarsing Lodge, 582, of Ellenville, was present and there also were 18 present and past masters from various lodges in the Greene-Ulster Masonic district in attendance.

As each of the guests was brought in and presented they were welcomed by Master Franz who remarked on the large number of "old timers" and the service they have seen in Masonry and he compared their long terms of service to his own, he having been raised exactly five years ago.

The program of the evening was opened with the singing of one stanza of America by the assemblage. This was followed by a piano duet by W. Whiting Fredenburgh and Walter Kidd. There were several recitations by Ross K. Osterhoudt of Stone Ridge, the moral of which was that we never grow too old to perform our duties.

Loughran Is Speaker

A violin solo by Joseph Mastocoloa, accompanied by Fredenburgh, followed and Frederick H. Stang of Wallkill Lodge then introduced the speaker of the evening, Past District Deputy Grand Master Roger H. Loughran who spoke on the present world situation.

After the meeting refreshments were served in the lodge dining room.

On May 18 members of Kingston Lodge, 10, F and A M, will hold a communion service and breakfast at the First Dutch Reformed Church. Gay H. Brown, past Grand Master of Masonry of the State of New York will be the speaker. The communion service will be at 7 a. m. and the breakfast at 8 a. m.

Guest Speaker at Honig Gift Party For Jewish Fund

MRS. A. SILVERMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Honig of this city are giving a party at their home Tuesday night, April 22, on behalf of the United Jewish Welfare Fund. Their guest speaker will be Mrs. Archibald Silverman, vice-president of the World Jewish Congress, who for the last 40 years has been a regular visitor to Palestine and Israel.

In 1947 she visited the Displaced Persons Camps in Austria and Germany, and the British internment camp on the Island of Cyprus to survey needs to be met through the United Jewish Appeal.

Mrs. Silverman's intense interest in Jewish affairs took her to Europe in 1939, leaving Poland a few days before the Nazi invasion of that country. During 1942 and 1943, Mrs. Silverman worked in England, holding the unusual record of being the only civilian woman to fly twice to England during World War 2. In 1944 she undertook a dangerous trans-Pacific trip to Australia and New Zealand to meet with important Jewish leaders there for the raising of urgently needed funds on behalf of the growing number of war victims and refugees.

Mrs. Silverman is a member of the National Council of American Friends of the Hebrew University. In 1925 she launched the Hebrew University Hospital Building Fund.

Active in communal, as well as national affairs, Mrs. Silverman is honorary president of the Providence Chapter of Hadassah, and the League of Jewish Women's Organizations of Rhode Island, both of which she founded.

She is a member of the board of directors of the Red Mogen Dovid (Red Cross) Commission.

Ulster Park Man Fined On Hit-Run Charge

Eric Breder, 51, of Ulster Park, whom the sheriff's office today reported was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, was fined $50 when he appeared before Justice Francis E. Palen of the town of Esopus.

When arraigned, Breder pleaded guilty to the charge and later paid the fine.

The arrest followed the report that an automobile, driven by George S. Bigler, 31, of Connelly, was struck Sunday at 9:15 p. m. on Route 9W at Ulster Park. The report added that the car continued without stopping after sideswiping the Bigler vehicle.

Breder, the sheriff's office said, was picked up this morning. He was driving a pickup truck owned by the Ulster Park Provision Co., at the time of the accident.

A large number of different types of plants capture and consume insects.

Short Figure Finds Style

For a spruce look on Mother's Day, here are three suits designed for the shorter-than-average woman. Suit in cadet blue flannel (left) is softly tailored, correctly proportioned for the shorter woman. Jacket has petal peplum, adjustable cuffs. Worsted flannel (center) makes suit in gray that has detachable pure silk surah polka-dotted over collar and matching jacket lining. A slim, six-gore skirt has two back-panel inverted pleats. Beige flannel suit (right) has two-button tuxedo front with taffeta overlay. Straight, four-gore skirt is eased for walking by center back kickpleat. All three are designed to slim down the short, rounded woman and give her added height.

Control Action Put Off

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today put off until tomorrow a possible decision on what to do about the government's wage-price control program. Not enough members showed up to do business. Sen. Capehart of Indiana, senior Republican on the committee, said there was "no discussion of the situation at all" at today's brief session. "We had no quorum so we recessed until tomorrow morning," Capehart added.

Old Timers Feted By Masonic Lodge

Honoring the "old timers," members of Kingston Lodge, 10, F and AM, Tuesday night greeted and saluted members of the order who have been in Masonry for a quarter of a century or more.

Leslie S. Lyons, past master of No. 10, was chairman of the committee which arranged the program for the evening, and Edward H. Franz, master, presented the guests to the membership after greeting them as they were introduced and inviting the honored members to be seated near the East.

Four members with over 50 years of Masonry were presented by their sponsor, Elwyn C. Davis. They were Ralph D. Clearwater who was raised in 1897, Roy Hume 1900, Romery V. Colclough, 1901 and J. Allen Wood 1902.

Thirteen members with over 40 years of membership were presented to Master Franz by Claude Gosline. There were 31 members with from 30 to 40 years of membership presented by Hugh R. Elwyn and 11 with membership from 25 to 30 years presented by Alwin Feurstein.

Past Masters Attend

There were two past district deputy Grand Masters present at the meeting, R. E. Leighton and Roger H. Loughran. District Deputy Grand Master Harry Brown of Wawarsing Lodge, 582, of Ellenville, was present and there also were 18 present and past masters from various lodges in the Greene-Ulster Masonic district in attendance.

As each of the guests was brought in and presented they were welcomed by Master Franz who remarked on the large number of "old timers" and the service they have seen in Masonry and he compared their long terms of service to his own, he having been raised exactly five years ago.

The program of the evening was opened with the singing of one stanza of America by the assemblage. This was followed by a piano duet by W. Whiting Fredenburgh and Walter Kidd. There were several recitations by Ross K. Osterhoudt of Stone Ridge, the moral of which was that we never grow too old to perform our duties.

Loughran Is Speaker

A violin solo by Joseph Mastocoloa, accompanied by Fredenburgh, followed and Frederick H. Stang of Wallkill Lodge then introduced the speaker of the evening, Past District Deputy Grand Master Roger H. Loughran who spoke on the present world situation.

After the meeting refreshments were served in the lodge dining room.

On May 18 members of Kingston Lodge, 10, F and A M, will hold a communion service and breakfast at the First Dutch Reformed Church. Gay H. Brown, past Grand Master of Masonry of the State of New York will be the speaker. The communion service will be at 7 a. m. and the breakfast at 8 a. m.

ALBERT J. WRIGHT

Albert J. Wright Is Promoted to Warrant Officer

Darmstadt, Germany, March 20—In February, 1944, an 18-year-old private from Kingston joined the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Quartermaster Company in France. He wasn't too certain whether he'd like his new outfit—he didn't even know for sure what a quartermaster company was.

This week, after eight years, seven promotions and four overseas extensions in the company, Warrant Officer Junior Grade Albert J. Wright, will tell you he likes it fine.

Wright, whose home address is now Route 1, Sleightsburg, was sworn in as warrant officer last week. It was his seventh step upward since joining the QM Company.

He made private first class shortly after arriving in the First Division. He averaged better than one promotion a year until 1948 when he made master sergeant, the top enlisted grade.

It's unusual for a man to stay so long in one unit. What kept him applying for all those extensions?

"I decided to make the army my career," Wright explained "and I thought I might as well stay with a division and company I liked."

Three years ago WO Wright was the subject of an army recruiting cartoon strip which appeared in publications throughout the United States. The career it summarized went something like this:

The young warrant officer was drafted in July, 1943, after attending Kingston high (where he was a cheerleader). Shortly after completing basic training, he was sent to the European Theatre and the famed Fighting First.

He served first as a truck driver, then as a clerk, and came out of World War 2 with five battle stars.

He reenlisted after the war and became the QM Company's first sergeant in '46—though he was still only a buck sergeant. Two years later his perseverance carried him to the grade the job called for—master sergeant.

That last promotion came in a special way. Wright's commanding officer one day handed him a set of faked orders, directing him to return to the states. He protested and was referred to Major General (now Lieutenant General) Frank W. Milburn, who was the 1st Division's commanding general then.

Gen. Milburn took the "orders," tore them up, and presented Wright with a brand new set of master sergeant's stripes.

WO Wright held the first sergeant job until 1951, then became chief clerk in the Division Quartermaster section. He's now working in the Headquarters unit personnel section.

He's decided, by the way, that's about time he went back for a look at the Old Country. Sometime in May orders will come through—genuine ones this time—and WO Wright, his wife and two children, will return to the States for his first real homecoming in eight years.

Capt. Burn Glad To Be Home Again

New York, April 17 (AP)—Capt. John C. Burn, the airline pilot who twice escaped tragic air crashes, came home last night with his attractive wife, singer Jane Froman.

All Burn had to say was that he was "just glad to be home."

He didn't want to talk about last week's crash of his plane into the ocean off Puerto Rico. Fifty-two persons were killed in the accident. Burn was one of 17 survivors.

During the war Burn was the co-pilot of a plane that crashed into the sea at Lisbon, Portugal.

Miss Froman was a passenger on that plane.

Burn rescued her from the water. The singer was crippled by the crash—but recovered and later married burn.

Miss Froman had flown to Puerto Rico to be with her husband after last week's crash.

ALBERT J. WRIGHT

Albert J. Wright Is Promoted to Warrant Officer

Darmstadt, Germany, March 20—In February, 1944, an 18-year-old private from Kingston joined the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Quartermaster Company in France. He wasn't too certain whether he'd like his new outfit—he didn't even know for sure what a quartermaster company was.

This week, after eight years, seven promotions and four overseas extensions in the company, Warrant Officer Junior Grade Albert J. Wright, will tell you he likes it fine.

Wright, whose home address is now Route 1, Sleightsburg, was sworn in as warrant officer last week. It was his seventh step upward since joining the QM Company.

He made private first class shortly after arriving in the First Division. He averaged better than one promotion a year until 1948 when he made master sergeant, the top enlisted grade.

It's unusual for a man to stay so long in one unit. What kept him applying for all those extensions?

"I decided to make the army my career," Wright explained "and I thought I might as well stay with a division and company I liked."

Three years ago WO Wright was the subject of an army recruiting cartoon strip which appeared in publications throughout the United States. The career it summarized went something like this:

The young warrant officer was drafted in July, 1943, after attending Kingston high (where he was a cheerleader). Shortly after completing basic training, he was sent to the European Theatre and the famed Fighting First.

He served first as a truck driver, then as a clerk, and came out of World War 2 with five battle stars.

He reenlisted after the war and became the QM Company's first sergeant in '46—though he was still only a buck sergeant. Two years later his perseverance carried him to the grade the job called for—master sergeant.

That last promotion came in a special way. Wright's commanding officer one day handed him a set of faked orders, directing him to return to the states. He protested and was referred to Major General (now Lieutenant General) Frank W. Milburn, who was the 1st Division's commanding general then.

Gen. Milburn took the "orders," tore them up, and presented Wright with a brand new set of master sergeant's stripes.

WO Wright held the first sergeant job until 1951, then became chief clerk in the Division Quartermaster section. He's now working in the Headquarters unit personnel section.

He's decided, by the way, that's about time he went back for a look at the Old Country. Sometime in May orders will come through—genuine ones this time—and WO Wright, his wife and two children, will return to the States for his first real homecoming in eight years.

Capt. Burn Glad To Be Home Again

New York, April 17 (AP)—Capt. John C. Burn, the airline pilot who twice escaped tragic air crashes, came home last night with his attractive wife, singer Jane Froman.

All Burn had to say was that he was "just glad to be home."

He didn't want to talk about last week's crash of his plane into the ocean off Puerto Rico. Fifty-two persons were killed in the accident. Burn was one of 17 survivors.

During the war Burn was the co-pilot of a plane that crashed into the sea at Lisbon, Portugal.

Miss Froman was a passenger on that plane.

Burn rescued her from the water. The singer was crippled by the crash—but recovered and later married burn.

Miss Froman had flown to Puerto Rico to be with her husband after last week's crash.

DON'T HANDICAP YOUR BOY

This letter presents a very serious subject: "My sister and I are in constant disagreement over the way she is rearing her son. Perhaps it isn't any of my business, but I think she is being very unfair to him. To explain further: Every boy in our part of the country wears long trousers — either blue jeans or corduroy pants—to school by the time he is six except her son, who, incidentally, is eight. She dresses him in extremely short pants — far above the knee because she doesn't happen to like long pants. Also, she makes him do other things which, while not incorrect, amount to affectations in this city because they differ with our local practices. As a result, his schoolmates are forever poking fun at him and calling him 'sissy.' He is a fine little fellow and I hate to see him made unhappy. Don't you agree, Mrs. Post, that she is making a terrible mistake by setting him apart from other children."

I do most certainly agree with you. It is cruel to a child—especially a boy—to do anything to make him appear in any way different from his schoolmates. Seriously, the effect of this could handicap him for life.

Married Woman's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way to sign my name after I am married? There is quite a bit of controversy in my office about married women using their maiden names as a middle name. For example: Jane Alden Smith or Jane Anne Smith. Will you please settle this for me?

Answer: Jane Alden Smith is preferred because Jane Anne Smith, while not improper, does not tell who this person was before she was married.

Daughter Should Be Ready

Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter has a date with a young man, whom I have met, is it necessary that I, or my husband, always be at home when he comes to call for her?

Answer: Taking it for granted that she is ready to go when he stops for her, there is no way by which he would know whether or not you are at home.

Is it proper for a boy walking with two girls to walk between them? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-11, written exclusively for teen-agers, answers the questions they most frequently ask. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Start Singing and Humming; Campaign Songs Are Coming

START SINGING AND HUMMING; CAMPAIGN SONGS ARE COMING—Now that Eisenhower supporters have lustily taken up the Irving Berlin hit, "I Like Ike," you can bet your favorite-son lapel pin that rival campaign managers will throw their "tune sense" in. Pictured above is evidence that politicos have been saying it with music since 1840. If this year's crop of campaign songs is anywhere near as colorful and catchy as those celebrating Lincoln and Al Smith, the 1952 race should please everyone—musically, that is.

Forge-Proof Licenses To Be Ready May 1

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—A system designed to prevent forging of state motor vehicle licenses will go into effect May 1, Commissioner James R. MacDuff announced today.

MacDuff also said he would lift the temporary ban on issuance of chauffeur license renewals, effective May 1. Most of these expire May 31.

The renewals were halted March 1 pending development of a new validation system to combat fraudulent practices spotlighted by the arrest of bank robber Willie Sutton last February.

Police said Sutton had a forged operator's license and a phony car registration when he was picked up. In that case, the Motor Vehicle Bureau's validating stamp had been copied, apparently by use of a rubber stamp, authorities said.

A supply of license blanks and a rubber stamp also were found in the apartment of Thomas Kling, an accomplice of Sutton.

The new system will be used first in the 12-county New York city area and will be extended to other parts of the state as fast as the old stamping machines can be equipped with the new engraved plates.

Perhaps it isn't any of my business, but I think she is being very unfair to him. To explain further: Every boy in our part of the country wears long trousers — either blue jeans or corduroy pants—to school by the time he is six except her son, who, incidentally, is eight. She dresses him in extremely short pants — far above the knee because she doesn't happen to like long pants. Also, she makes him do other things which, while not incorrect, amount to affectations in this city because they differ with our local practices. As a result, his schoolmates are forever poking fun at him and calling him 'sissy.' He is a fine little fellow and I hate to see him made unhappy. Don't you agree, Mrs. Post, that she is making a terrible mistake by setting him apart from other children."

I do most certainly agree with you. It is cruel to a child—especially a boy—to do anything to make him appear in any way different from his schoolmates. Seriously, the effect of this could handicap him for life.

Married Woman's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way to sign my name after I am married? There is quite a bit of controversy in my office about married women using their maiden names as a middle name. For example: Jane Alden Smith or Jane Anne Smith. Will you please settle this for me?

Answer: Jane Alden Smith is preferred because Jane Anne Smith, while not improper, does not tell who this person was before she was married.

Daughter Should Be Ready

Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter has a date with a young man, whom I have met, is it necessary that I, or my husband, always be at home when he comes to call for her?

Answer: Taking it for granted that she is ready to go when he stops for her, there is no way by which he would know whether or not you are at home.

Is it proper for a boy walking with two girls to walk between them? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-11, written exclusively for teen-agers, answers the questions they most frequently ask. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Start Singing and Humming; Campaign Songs Are Coming

START SINGING AND HUMMING; CAMPAIGN SONGS ARE COMING—Now that Eisenhower supporters have lustily taken up the Irving Berlin hit, "I Like Ike," you can bet your favorite-son lapel pin that rival campaign managers will throw their "tune sense" in. Pictured above is evidence that politicos have been saying it with music since 1840. If this year's crop of campaign songs is anywhere near as colorful and catchy as those celebrating Lincoln and Al Smith, the 1952 race should please everyone—musically, that is.

Forge-Proof Licenses To Be Ready May 1

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—A system designed to prevent forging of state motor vehicle licenses will go into effect May 1, Commissioner James R. MacDuff announced today.

MacDuff also said he would lift the temporary ban on issuance of chauffeur license renewals, effective May 1. Most of these expire May 31.

The renewals were halted March 1 pending development of a new validation system to combat fraudulent practices spotlighted by the arrest of bank robber Willie Sutton last February.

Police said Sutton had a forged operator's license and a phony car registration when he was picked up. In that case, the Motor Vehicle Bureau's validating stamp had been copied, apparently by use of a rubber stamp, authorities said.

A supply of license blanks and a rubber stamp also were found in the apartment of Thomas Kling, an accomplice of Sutton.

The new system will be used first in the 12-county New York city area and will be extended to other parts of the state as fast as the old stamping machines can be equipped with the new engraved plates.

City Baseball League Plans Sunday, May 18, Opener for 1952 Season

Five Teams to Play 3 Games Weekly, Sunday Included

Playing Days Are Sunday Tuesday and Wednesday

City Baseball League managers broke tradition last night to set up a Sunday, May 18, opener for the twilight circuit which will operate with five teams:

The 1952 schedule will use Sunday ball for the first time in the history of the circuit as part of the three-day weekly setup.

The five teams ready to go are Chez Emile, headed by Joe Hoffman; Boulevard Gulf, Bill Tierney; Jones Dairy, Johnny Schatzel; Wiltwyck Motors, Tony Williams; and Colonial Merchants, Pucker Davis.

Team managers decided on the Sunday ball proposition in order to create minimum conflict with the Little League schedule which operates on Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Umpleby Attends

Bob Umpleby, president of the Kingston Athletic Association, sponsors of Little League baseball, attended the meeting at city hall at the invitation of the City League and took part in the discussion which led to the decision to play Sunday ball.

All games as usual will be played at the Athletic Field, with the weekday contests scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m. and the Sunday games at 2:05 p. m., in accordance with the Sunday baseball law.

Efforts to secure a sixth franchise failed but the managers expressed confidence that this year's tight five-team setup would improve the brand of twilight baseball for Athletic Field patrons.

The managers handled other routine business last night, including the designation of ground keepers, umpires and nomination for secretary.

Jimmy Chick and Joe Tomaseskie have made application for the collector's job, while veteran Bill Schwab, Jack Rivenberg of Saugerties, and Francis Stauble are seeking umpiring posts. Pat DeCicco is in line for the ground keeper post.

Name Finance Group

Bob Steeger has been nominated for the important position of league secretary-scorekeeper. The vacancy occurred when Joe Messinger resigned because of pressure of other business.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, April 24. Managers must post $50 franchise fees and their player rosters at a May 7th meeting.

The crucial question of finances occupied the attention of the managers who recalled the financial difficulties encountered by the league in mid-season of 1951.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to appoint a committee to meet with local business men and concerns to raise money to help finance the league.

Meanwhile, managers expressed the belief that the innovation of a regular Sunday baseball schedule would increase gate receipts.

The finance committee appointed by president Joe Kelly will make a report at the April 30 meeting.

Share Trot Honors

Yonkers, April 17 (AP)—Danny Boy Dal-Yum and Blitzen Up, shared honors last night in the split featured Kimball Trot before 13,409 second-night Yonkers Raceway fans. In the first division, Dick Thomas scored with Blitzen Up, defeating June Oakie and Luckey Key in 2:12 3/5 to pay $6.40, $4.40 and $3.40. The second division went to Danny Boy Dal-Yum the hard way as reinsmar Dick Williams completed the mile on the outside all the way in 2:11.2. Roxie Hanover was second and Kroger Babb, third.

Taverns Bowl Early On April 28 Finale

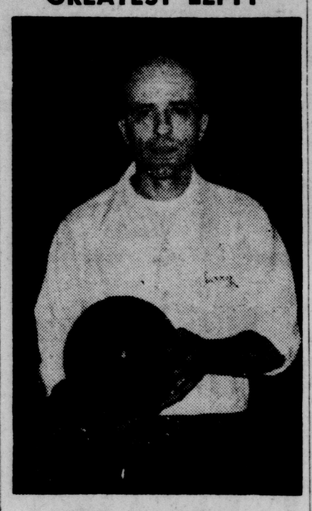
Bil Johnson, president of the Tavern Association Bowling League, announced today that his league will start at a new time on the final night of the season.

Due to state tournament rolling, the Tavern keglers are requested to be ready to bowl on Monday, April 28, at 6:45 p. m. All bowlers are requested to be at the Bowlatorium no later than 6:30 o'clock that night.

STATISTICAL CREW HANDLES STATE TOURNEY FIGURES

In usual order, Mitzie Arlensky and Bud Evans, statisticians; and J. Kenneth Powell, who has the complex job of assigning scorekeepers for the 24 alleys. (Freeman Photo).

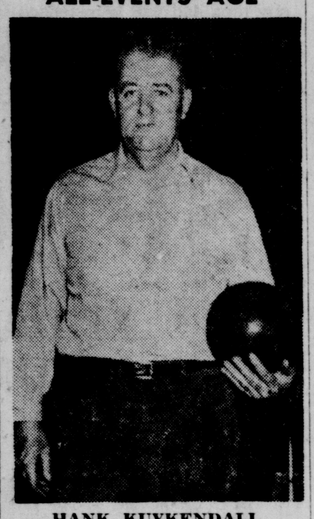
GREATEST LEFTY



JERRY PISCANELLI

This veteran Poughkeepsie southpaw, who rolled his state tournament games in Kingston last weekend, holds the all-time ABC sanctioned league scoring record for a southpaw kegler. More than a decade ago he powered a sensational 798 in the Bridge City.

ALL-EVENTS ACE



HANK KUYKENDALL

Ellenville veteran who leads both divisions of the all-events in the state tournament. He has a 1939 net and 2002 gross, compiled with 595 team; 690 doubles; 654 singles and 63 pin handicap.

NEW YORK'S BEST

LOU JARVIS

Here's the man who owns the highest average in the state tournament this year—a rousing 212—Lou Jarvis of New York. He rolled 624 in his five-man event in Kingston. Jarvis averages better than 200 in three New York leagues.

Cramer Five Rolls Five-Man Tonight

IBM Squad, Berardi's Post High Triples

Morris Cramer, the brilliant young Cohoes kegler who has stirred local bowling fans with his sensational match game shooting, leads his powerful Manhattan Balls Five of Albany in state tournament action tonight at the Ferraro Bowlodrome at 9:30.

Cramer's squad is one of two "scratch" teams in the tournament. Every member is a "200" kegler in one league or another. Two of Cramer's teammates—Bill Barrett and Joey Schmidt—are well known to local regulars.

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—A bill stiffening criminal and civil penalties for taking doe deer illegally was approved today by Gov. Dewey. The measure makes the taking of a doe an indictable misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 to $500, a year in jail, or both. Lakers Crack Knick Streak

New York, April 17 (AP)—"They can't run if they haven't got the ball."

That, in a nutshell, sums up the Minneapolis Lakers' 82-77 victory over the New York Knickerbockers with NBA playoffs last night, and it certainly made George Mikan a mighty happy gent.

"Sure feels good to be scoring again," the six-foot-ten giant said after his team stopped New York's blistering running attack to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven final playoff round.

"We beat 'em off the backboards. That's what won for us more than anything else. We didn't let 'em have the ball."

And so it was. The poised Lakers, refusing to crack under the intense pressure of New York's fast-breaking tactics, held the frustrated Knicks to just six points in the last six minutes to seal the victory.

Now Minneapolis again is favored to win the "World Series" of professional basketball. The fourth game will be played here Friday night, with the teams going to St. Paul, Minn., for No. 5 on Sunday.

Playing by far his best game of the series, Mikan connected for 26 points on eight field goals and 10 fouls. It was his scoring and Jim Pollard's brilliant floor play which ended the Knicks' 23-game home floor winning streak.

An Englishman invented matches more than a century ago.

Kelly Bows Out As Twi Prexy

Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly of The Freeman editorial department, who has served one year as president of the City Baseball League, submitted his resignation last night, because of the pressure of outside duties, and urged the election of a man well versed in City League business who might be able to devote more time to the league in this crucial season.

The name of Big Joe Mahar, former City League twirler and an enthusiastic league booster, was promptly offered. The managers are expected to certify Mahar as president at the April 24 meeting.

Kelly was elected for a two-year term at the start of the 1951 season. He expressed confidence today that a baseball figure like Joe Mahar would do a good job as City League president.

City Baseball League Plans Sunday, May 18, Opener for 1952 Season

Five Teams to Play 3 Games Weekly, Sunday Included

Playing Days Are Sunday Tuesday and Wednesday

City Baseball League managers broke tradition last night to set up a Sunday, May 18, opener for the twilight circuit which will operate with five teams:

The 1952 schedule will use Sunday ball for the first time in the history of the circuit as part of the three-day weekly setup.

The five teams ready to go are Chez Emile, headed by Joe Hoffman; Boulevard Gulf, Bill Tierney; Jones Dairy, Johnny Schatzel; Wiltwyck Motors, Tony Williams; and Colonial Merchants, Pucker Davis.

Team managers decided on the Sunday ball proposition in order to create minimum conflict with the Little League schedule which operates on Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Umpleby Attends

Bob Umpleby, president of the Kingston Athletic Association, sponsors of Little League baseball, attended the meeting at city hall at the invitation of the City League and took part in the discussion which led to the decision to play Sunday ball.

All games as usual will be played at the Athletic Field, with the weekday contests scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m. and the Sunday games at 2:05 p. m., in accordance with the Sunday baseball law.

Efforts to secure a sixth franchise failed but the managers expressed confidence that this year's tight five-team setup would improve the brand of twilight baseball for Athletic Field patrons.

The managers handled other routine business last night, including the designation of ground keepers, umpires and nomination for secretary.

Jimmy Chick and Joe Tomaseskie have made application for the collector's job, while veteran Bill Schwab, Jack Rivenberg of Saugerties, and Francis Stauble are seeking umpiring posts. Pat DeCicco is in line for the ground keeper post.

Name Finance Group

Bob Steeger has been nominated for the important position of league secretary-scorekeeper. The vacancy occurred when Joe Messinger resigned because of pressure of other business.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, April 24. Managers must post $50 franchise fees and their player rosters at a May 7th meeting.

The crucial question of finances occupied the attention of the managers who recalled the financial difficulties encountered by the league in mid-season of 1951.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to appoint a committee to meet with local business men and concerns to raise money to help finance the league.

Meanwhile, managers expressed the belief that the innovation of a regular Sunday baseball schedule would increase gate receipts.

The finance committee appointed by president Joe Kelly will make a report at the April 30 meeting.

Share Trot Honors

Yonkers, April 17 (AP)—Danny Boy Dal-Yum and Blitzen Up, shared honors last night in the split featured Kimball Trot before 13,409 second-night Yonkers Raceway fans. In the first division, Dick Thomas scored with Blitzen Up, defeating June Oakie and Luckey Key in 2:12 3/5 to pay $6.40, $4.40 and $3.40. The second division went to Danny Boy Dal-Yum the hard way as reinsmar Dick Williams completed the mile on the outside all the way in 2:11.2. Roxie Hanover was second and Kroger Babb, third.

Taverns Bowl Early On April 28 Finale

Bil Johnson, president of the Tavern Association Bowling League, announced today that his league will start at a new time on the final night of the season.

Due to state tournament rolling, the Tavern keglers are requested to be ready to bowl on Monday, April 28, at 6:45 p. m. All bowlers are requested to be at the Bowlatorium no later than 6:30 o'clock that night.

These three gentlemen are those around whom most of the statistical activity of the state bowling tournament centers at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium. In usual order, Mitzie Arlensky and Bud Evans, statisticians; and J. Kenneth Powell, who has the complex job of assigning scorekeepers for the 24 alleys. (Freeman Photo).

GREATEST LEFTY

JERRY PISCANELLI

This veteran Poughkeepsie southpaw, who rolled his state tournament games in Kingston last weekend, holds the all-time ABC sanctioned league scoring record for a southpaw kegler. More than a decade ago he powered a sensational 798 in the Bridge City.

Ellenville veteran who leads both divisions of the all-events in the state tournament. He has a 1939 net and 2002 gross, compiled with 595 team; 690 doubles; 654 singles and 63 pin handicap.

NEW YORK'S BEST

LOU JARVIS

IBM Squad, Berardi's Post High Triples

Morris Cramer, the brilliant young Cohoes kegler who has stirred local bowling fans with his sensational match game shooting, leads his powerful Manhattan Balls Five of Albany in state tournament action tonight at the Ferraro Bowlodrome at 9:30.

Cramer's squad is one of two "scratch" teams in the tournament. Every member is a "200" kegler in one league or another. Two of Cramer's teammates—Bill Barrett and Joey Schmidt—are well known to local regulars.

Kelly Bows Out As Twi Prexy

Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly of The Freeman editorial department, who has served one year as president of the City Baseball League, submitted his resignation last night, because of the pressure of outside duties, and urged the election of a man well versed in City League business who might be able to devote more time to the league in this crucial season.

The name of Big Joe Mahar, former City League twirler and an enthusiastic league booster, was promptly offered. The managers are expected to certify Mahar as president at the April 24 meeting.

Kelly was elected for a two-year term at the start of the 1951 season. He expressed confidence today that a baseball figure like Joe Mahar would do a good job as City League president.

Lakers Crack Knick Streak

New York, April 17 (AP)—"They can't run if they haven't got the ball."

That, in a nutshell, sums up the Minneapolis Lakers' 82-77 victory over the New York Knickerbockers with NBA playoffs last night, and it certainly made George Mikan a mighty happy gent.

"Sure feels good to be scoring again," the six-foot-ten giant said after his team stopped New York's blistering running attack to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven final playoff round.

"We beat 'em off the backboards. That's what won for us more than anything else. We didn't let 'em have the ball."

And so it was. The poised Lakers, refusing to crack under the intense pressure of New York's fast-breaking tactics, held the frustrated Knicks to just six points in the last six minutes to seal the victory.

Now Minneapolis again is favored to win the "World Series" of professional basketball. The fourth game will be played here Friday night, with the teams going to St. Paul, Minn., for No. 5 on Sunday.

Playing by far his best game of the series, Mikan connected for 26 points on eight field goals and 10 fouls. It was his scoring and Jim Pollard's brilliant floor play which ended the Knicks' 23-game home floor winning streak.

Bob Elliott's Two-Homer Debut Fans Giant Hopes for New Flag

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bob Elliott's crashing two-homer debut chased the Monte Irvin blues out of the Polo Grounds.

New York Giant fans, dubious of the value of a 35-year-old Boston Brave "castoff" came to the Polo Grounds last night to be shown. Elliott sure showed them. He made Irvin's ankle fracture seem less tragic.

When the Giants bought Big Bob from the Braves, April 8, for $50,000 and pitcher Sheldon Jones, Manager Leo Durocher shouted "He'll be my crasher." Now the fans know what Leo meant.

First a home run deep into the upper left field seats in the fourth inning. Then No. 2 into the right field seats in the eighth. Elliott sprayed new optimism into the Giant cause.

Just a few hours before Elliott ruined opening night for Robin Roberts, the doctors sewed together Monte Irvin's torn ligaments. They said the 1951 runs batted in champ might be ready to pinch hit in late July. Elliott's performance and his optimistic report on Irvin restored some of the glow of the miracle of '51.

Elliott's home runs plus steady four-hit pitching by Sal Maglie made New York's first night opener a success with a 5-3 win over the Phillies. It was Sal the Barber's ninth straight over the Whiz Kids. He struck out eight and restricted his trouble to the three-run fifth.

If Elliott keeps it up, the Braves probably will swear off trading with the Giants. They gave them Al Dark and Eddie Stanky, the makings of a pennant winner. And now Elliott, who was holding out, comes to life in a new uniform.

Ironically, the Braves staggered through a rugged afternoon, absorbing a 14-8 pasting from the slugging Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks flattened Max Surkont in the first inning and kept it up all day for 20 hits, including five by Duke Snider and a homer, double and single by Roy Campanella.

That man from St. Louis—Stan Musial—got hot with the bat to drive home three runs with a homer and double in the Cardinals' second straight night victory over Pittsburgh, 6-5. The Cards ripped Howie Pollet, a former teammate, for five runs after two were out in the seventh.

Raschi Stops A's

Vic Raschi got the world champ New York Yankees off winging in their drive toward a fourth straight pennant with an 8-1 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Big Vic owns a lifetime 21-2 record against the A's. However, he needed help from Johnny Sain when he developed a wild streak and walked two straight in the ninth after pitching two-hit shutout ball for the first eight frames.

Hank Bauer's homer in the fourth inning started the Yanks on the way. They finally clubbed Alex Kellner to the showers in the ninth when they scored five runs and boosted their hit total to 14, three by Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland and the surprising St. Louis Browns kept step in their two-way tie for the American League lead. The Indians nipped Chicago, 1-0, on rookie Jim Fridley's homer and Bob Lemon's three-hit pitching while Rogers Hornsby's Brownies clipped Detroit, 5-4.

Floyd Baker, supposed to be a "good field, no hit" man, won a night game for Washington with a bases-loaded single off Boston's Ellis Kinder with two out in the eleventh, 4-3. Irv Noren's double and two walks loaded them up. Julio Moreno went all the way for the Senators.

The Indians continued to get super pitching with Lemon doing the job but had to depend on a rookie from Dallas to do the hitting. Fridley's second-inning homer ruined Joe Dobson's four-hit job.

Hornsby got some help from Tommy Byrne, that good hitting pitcher, for the Browns's second straight win. Hornsby lifted two regulars for pinchhitters in the seventh inning but let Byrne hit for himself. Tommy doubled home the first run as St. Louis rallied with three to tie. They won with two in the eighth on Tom Wright's single, a triple by rookie George Schmees and double by Hank Arft.

Cincinnati and Chicago had an open date in the National.

New York — (NEA) — Q. How many bases did Hector Rodriguez, the White Sox' new speed merchant, steal last season?

A. The 31-year-old Cuban Negro, playing at Montreal, led the International League with 26.

Q. Did Bob Cerv, the Yankees' rookie outfielder, ever play college ball?

A. Yes, at Nebraska. He also starred in basketball. The American Association's 1951 batting champion, the only boy in his family, learned his first baseball from three sisters, all good enough to play in a Weston, Neb., softball league.

Q. Is Sammy White, the rookie catcher the Boston Red Sox are so high on, the same youngster who played basketball at the University of Washington?

A. Yes. Seems as though college basketball is producing lots of pro baseball material these days. White was the Huskies' top All-America candidate for three seasons.

No wrapup of the 1951-52 independent basketball season would be complete without paeans of praise for the YMCA's dymmic physical director and basketball promoter.

A man of unbelievable energy and enthusiasm, Lou Schafer does a remarkable job, year after year, with the complex YMCA basketball program. When you take into consideration his other multiple duties you have to wonder where the Springfield alumnus finds time for a highly integrated program that would drive an ordinary person into a strait-jacket.

In his own field, however, Lou Schafer is not an ordinary man. We have said it before and it can stand repetition. He is a newspaper man's dream. Whenever Lou schedules a promotion or affair, you can rest assured that the reports will hit the sports desk well ahead of the deadline the next morning. It is as inevitable as that "wait until next year" in Brooklyn.

The YMCA's basketball program must be the most intensive in the Hudson valley. It follows that it must be the best. It can't miss so long as Lou Schafer stays around.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

While passing out bouquets, let's not overlook the crack Wiltwyck Motors squad. They have just completed a two-year sweep of the YMCA Autumn and regular season circuits. The Motormen dropped four of their first 10 games in the "A" League and when Potter Bros. drubbed them 75-62 on Feb. 12, Bob Murray came up with a classic prophecy. "From now on," said the tall red-head, son of a famous basketball father, "each game will be just another game. We'll play a game at a time. On Feb. 23, Wiltwycks started their climb toward the top by edging Electrol, 66-57. Three days later Hercules bit the dust, 86-80, and on March 4 Jones Dairy went under 82-50. New Paltz contributed a forfeit but on March 18, the Motormen downed Potter Bros., 79-72, to create a triple-tie playoff. The rest is YMCA basketball history. It was a championship aggregation all the way—Don Haggerty, Big Bill Keine, Bud Scheffel, Vince Peck, Art Carpouzis, Joe Shattan, Charlie Jennings and part-time Red Murray. The "A" League was a thriller from start to finish. It would have been ever more classic had Ronnie Scheffel stayed with Hercules.

Karl Thraen of Brooklyn, who brings the Topp's bowling five to Kingston this weekend, listed a flock of familiar old time Saugerties and county baseball names on the Independents of three decades ago. But, he insists, the Independents were even better in basketball and he recalls such titans as John Keeey, Ham Robinson, Chuck Peters, Carmen Styles, Walter Grawahr and himself. Chet Dolson, the late Harold Johnson and Jack Spalt of Kingston were later drafted and Thraen describes them as "a brilliant, smooth-working trio." At times, the Independents also used Shady Howe, Duke Van Vliet and other Hudson and Columbia county aces. Clifford Whitaker of Saugerties was the official scorekeeper.

Thraen says Dewey Van Buren of Kingston and Oscar Schlenker of Cementon pitched great ball for the Independents. Of Jimmy Morgan, whose tavern is hard by the Bowlodrome, Thraen wrote:

"Jimmy Morgan took me up to Tannersville when I was only a kid and got me a job as umpire up in the mountains. Julius Dolan was the manager and they had Tubby Raskin, the Dugan brothers (Len and Leo), Johnny Manners, Percy Short, Lefty Ross, Jimmy and a lot of other stars whose names I can't recall at the moment."

It seems there was another side to Thraen. He recalls running dances with John Cole and his then famous Merry Melody orchestra and says that hoofer named Ray Senter and a girl he remembers only as "Fanny" put on dance exhibitions that packed the house wherever they appeared. Thraen was also a member of the Saugerties Washington Hook and Ladder Drum Corps and believes he tok music lessons from a man in Kingston named Maisenhelder. Could it be Harry? Could, but there seems to be a discrepancy in ages. But Thraen says this "Maisenhelder" usually played all the big dances and furnished the music for the dancing after the basketball games in the old armory.

Old timers mentioned above will be happy to see Karl Thraen. As for Karl, he says, "The most enjoyable days of my life I spent in that part of the country. I hope some of the older folks still remember me."

Poughkeepsie's best known singles shooter — Phil Versace — rolled into third place in the net singles division of the state tournament with a 672 blast at the Bowlatorium.

The veteran Bridge City kegler who almost can call the Bowlatorium his home drives reeled off solos of 242-245-185. His 15-handicap boosted him to 12th place in the gross singles, with 687.

Lou Campi of New York still leads the net group with 698.

Ed Rhymer, with a tournament average of 139 or less, furnished a major surprise with a rousing 681 gross singles score. He toppled 195-185-166-546 net and had 135 pins handicap. That was good enough for 15th place in the gross singles.

Ralph Hammond of Poughkeepsie had 612 net and 666 gross while Gene Vogel of Kingston piled up a 663 gross, with 582 net and 81-pin handicap. A. Bali of Kingston had 641 gross.

New York Duo Leads

A New York tandem—G. Edgett and J. Gothe—toppled 1199 net (fifth place) and 1298 for six position in the gross doubles. Gothe fired 686 and Edgett had 612.

J. Hartman and W. Beam of Buffalo took over 12th place with 1274 gross and J. Fusco and J. Nealon of Schenectady had 1250.

Gene Vogel and Charlie Grunenwald of Kingston racked up 1215 and Eddie Bahl and Stan Kaplan tied that mark.

Sugar Ray Points for Maxim Bout After Quick Kayo Over Graziano

The Rock Collapses Under Right in 3rd

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, 32, but still a ring killer, with a quick and paralyzing punch today was ready for a shot at his third world title after a third-round knockout of challenger Rocky Graziano.

Robinson's execution last night of former 160-pound champion Graziano before a capacity Chicago Stadium crowd of 22,264 apparently was a stepping stone to a June New York showdown with champion Joey Maxim for the light-heavy crown.

Sugar Ray confessed he went "head-huntin' early" to pulverize Graziano in a brief but blistering bout which paid $82,208 to Robinson and $68,507 to Graziano.

"I figured that against a fighter like Rocky, you got to hurt him quick to keep him from getting cocky," said Robinson. "You toy with a slugger like him and later when you clout him, he thinks it's accidental. So I sailed into him on every opening."

It was a miscalculation that dropped the curtains on eager, wild-swinging Graziano.

"See, I bounced off the ropes in the middle of the third round and clouted Robinson good with a right and down he goes," grimaced Graziano in his dressing room. Robinson went down for no-count midway in the third round.

"So a little later, he drives me to the ropes with a left to the body and I figure to bounce off again and give it to him good. But, wham, he blasts that right and it catches me right on the button and the fight is over."

Sugar Ray, who still considers himself the welterweight king (he automatically vacated that crown when he beat Jake LaMotta for the 160-pound title) as well as the middleweight champion, reportedly will skip a scheduled middleweight title defense May 16 at New York against Paddy Young to take on Maxim.

The International Boxing Club had nothing official to say about Robinson's future plans.

Another Big Gate

But Robinson's intense pride and the prospects of another lush gate, possibly comparing with last night's net of $194,028, gave solid support to the report of a June clash with Maxim.

Robinson declared himself not interested in tackling Maxim at 175 pounds. He weighed 157¼ against Graziano's 159¾.

The champion won the first round by a shade, booming a two-fisted attack to the surprise of most experts who expected him to retreat until Graziano ran out of gas.

The second round was pretty much of a standoff, although Graziano started clubbing with his wicked right until Robinson hastily back-pedaled.

The third round found Graziano getting a little cocky. When he floored Robinson with a right that spilled the champion so quickly it looked like he slipped, Rocky had made a fatal mistake.

Robinson quickly uprighted himself and then squaring off for murderous range, pumped the left-right combination that put the lights out for Rocky. Graziano courageously tried to get his collapsed body upright, but he didn't make it until after Referee Tommy Gilmore had counted 10.

Major League Briefs

New York, April 17 (AP)—Johnny Mize, New York Yankee first baseman, has 1,950 hits to his credit today. The slugging veteran connected for a double in the seventh inning yesterday off the slants of Philadelphia's Alex Kellner. Mize would like to close out his brilliant career as a member of the 2,000 hit club.

Detroit, April 17 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Brown's new manager, is operating a three-platoon system of his own at first base. So far, the Rajah has used Dick Kryhoski, Gordon Goldsberry and Hank Arft at the initial corner. Arft banged out a double and a triple yesterday while Kryhoski came through with a timely pinch single.

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Bob Lemon, Cleveland righthander, already has equalled his 1951 record in at least one department. His shutout yesterday against the Chicago White Sox was as many as he compiled all last season.

Philadelphia, April 17 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, of the New York Yankees, had three hits, one a double, and stole a base in the Yankee win over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. This should dispel fears the baby-faced outfielder's leg, injured in last year's World Series, will not hold up.

Boston, April 17 (AP)—Although his Brooklyn teammates had a field day against the Braves pounding out 20 hits (with Duke Snider making five), Gil Hodges went hitless in six trips yesterday.

Amends Press Law

Karachi, Pakistan, April 17 (AP)—Parliament today passed an amendment to the press law which Interior Minister Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani said would guarantee that newspapers could not be owned by "foreigners who might influence public opinion." The amendment requires that the sole owner of a newspaper must be a Pakistani, and that at least 75 per cent of the capital of a publishing concern must be held by Pakistan citizens.

Bob Elliott's Two-Homer Debut Fans Giant Hopes for New Flag

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bob Elliott's crashing two-homer debut chased the Monte Irvin blues out of the Polo Grounds.

New York Giant fans, dubious of the value of a 35-year-old Boston Brave "castoff" came to the Polo Grounds last night to be shown. Elliott sure showed them. He made Irvin's ankle fracture seem less tragic.

When the Giants bought Big Bob from the Braves, April 8, for $50,000 and pitcher Sheldon Jones, Manager Leo Durocher shouted "He'll be my crasher." Now the fans know what Leo meant.

First a home run deep into the upper left field seats in the fourth inning. Then No. 2 into the right field seats in the eighth. Elliott sprayed new optimism into the Giant cause.

Just a few hours before Elliott ruined opening night for Robin Roberts, the doctors sewed together Monte Irvin's torn ligaments. They said the 1951 runs batted in champ might be ready to pinch hit in late July. Elliott's performance and his optimistic report on Irvin restored some of the glow of the miracle of '51.

Elliott's home runs plus steady four-hit pitching by Sal Maglie made New York's first night opener a success with a 5-3 win over the Phillies. It was Sal the Barber's ninth straight over the Whiz Kids. He struck out eight and restricted his trouble to the three-run fifth.

If Elliott keeps it up, the Braves probably will swear off trading with the Giants. They gave them Al Dark and Eddie Stanky, the makings of a pennant winner. And now Elliott, who was holding out, comes to life in a new uniform.

Ironically, the Braves staggered through a rugged afternoon, absorbing a 14-8 pasting from the slugging Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks flattened Max Surkont in the first inning and kept it up all day for 20 hits, including five by Duke Snider and a homer, double and single by Roy Campanella.

That man from St. Louis—Stan Musial—got hot with the bat to drive home three runs with a homer and double in the Cardinals' second straight night victory over Pittsburgh, 6-5. The Cards ripped Howie Pollet, a former teammate, for five runs after two were out in the seventh.

Raschi Stops A's

Vic Raschi got the world champ New York Yankees off winging in their drive toward a fourth straight pennant with an 8-1 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Big Vic owns a lifetime 21-2 record against the A's. However, he needed help from Johnny Sain when he developed a wild streak and walked two straight in the ninth after pitching two-hit shutout ball for the first eight frames.

Hank Bauer's homer in the fourth inning started the Yanks on the way. They finally clubbed Alex Kellner to the showers in the ninth when they scored five runs and boosted their hit total to 14, three by Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland and the surprising St. Louis Browns kept step in their two-way tie for the American League lead. The Indians nipped Chicago, 1-0, on rookie Jim Fridley's homer and Bob Lemon's three-hit pitching while Rogers Hornsby's Brownies clipped Detroit, 5-4.

Floyd Baker, supposed to be a "good field, no hit" man, won a night game for Washington with a bases-loaded single off Boston's Ellis Kinder with two out in the eleventh, 4-3. Irv Noren's double and two walks loaded them up. Julio Moreno went all the way for the Senators.

The Indians continued to get super pitching with Lemon doing the job but had to depend on a rookie from Dallas to do the hitting. Fridley's second-inning homer ruined Joe Dobson's four-hit job.

Hornsby got some help from Tommy Byrne, that good hitting pitcher, for the Browns's second straight win. Hornsby lifted two regulars for pinchhitters in the seventh inning but let Byrne hit for himself. Tommy doubled home the first run as St. Louis rallied with three to tie. They won with two in the eighth on Tom Wright's single, a triple by rookie George Schmees and double by Hank Arft.

Cincinnati and Chicago had an open date in the National.

New York — (NEA) — Q. How many bases did Hector Rodriguez, the White Sox' new speed merchant, steal last season?

Beans Reardon

A. The 31-year-old Cuban Negro, playing at Montreal, led the International League with 26.

Q. Did Bob Cerv, the Yankees' rookie outfielder, ever play college ball?

A. Yes, at Nebraska. He also starred in basketball. The American Association's 1951 batting champion, the only boy in his family, learned his first baseball from three sisters, all good enough to play in a Weston, Neb., softball league.

Q. Is Sammy White, the rookie catcher the Boston Red Sox are so high on, the same youngster who played basketball at the University of Washington?

A. Yes. Seems as though college basketball is producing lots of pro baseball material these days. White was the Huskies' top All-America candidate for three seasons.

Poughkeepsie's best known singles shooter — Phil Versace — rolled into third place in the net singles division of the state tournament with a 672 blast at the Bowlatorium.

The veteran Bridge City kegler who almost can call the Bowlatorium his home drives reeled off solos of 242-245-185. His 15-handicap boosted him to 12th place in the gross singles, with 687.

Lou Campi of New York still leads the net group with 698.

Ed Rhymer, with a tournament average of 139 or less, furnished a major surprise with a rousing 681 gross singles score. He toppled 195-185-166-546 net and had 135 pins handicap. That was good enough for 15th place in the gross singles.

Ralph Hammond of Poughkeepsie had 612 net and 666 gross while Gene Vogel of Kingston piled up a 663 gross, with 582 net and 81-pin handicap. A. Bali of Kingston had 641 gross.

New York Duo Leads

A New York tandem—G. Edgett and J. Gothe—toppled 1199 net (fifth place) and 1298 for six position in the gross doubles. Gothe fired 686 and Edgett had 612.

J. Hartman and W. Beam of Buffalo took over 12th place with 1274 gross and J. Fusco and J. Nealon of Schenectady had 1250.

Gene Vogel and Charlie Grunenwald of Kingston racked up 1215 and Eddie Bahl and Stan Kaplan tied that mark.

Sugar Ray Points for Maxim Bout After Quick Kayo Over Graziano

The Rock Collapses Under Right in 3rd

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, 32, but still a ring killer, with a quick and paralyzing punch today was ready for a shot at his third world title after a third-round knockout of challenger Rocky Graziano.

Robinson's execution last night of former 160-pound champion Graziano before a capacity Chicago Stadium crowd of 22,264 apparently was a stepping stone to a June New York showdown with champion Joey Maxim for the light-heavy crown.

Sugar Ray confessed he went "head-huntin' early" to pulverize Graziano in a brief but blistering bout which paid $82,208 to Robingson and $68,507 to Graziano.

"I figured that against a fighter like Rocky, you got to hurt him quick to keep him from getting cocky," said Robinson. "You toy with a slugger like him and later when you clout him, he thinks it's accidental. So I sailed into him on every opening."

It was a miscalculation that dropped the curtains on eager, wild-swinging Graziano.

"See, I bounced off the ropes in the middle of the third round and clouted Robinson good with a right and down he goes," grimaced Graziano in his dressing room. Robinson went down for no-count midway in the third round.

"So a little later, he drives me to the ropes with a left to the body and I figure to bounce off again and give it to him good. But, wham, he blasts that right and it catches me right on the button and the fight is over."

Sugar Ray, who still considers himself the welterweight king (he automatically vacated that crown when he beat Jake LaMotta for the 160-pound title) as well as the middleweight champion, reportedly will skip a scheduled middleweight title defense May 16 at New York against Paddy Young to take on Maxim.

The International Boxing Club had nothing official to say about Robinson's future plans.

Another Big Gate

But Robinson's intense pride and the prospects of another lush gate, possibly comparing with last night's net of $194,028, gave solid support to the report of a June clash with Maxim.

Robinson declared himself not interested in tackling Maxim at 175 pounds. He weighed 157¼ against Graziano's 159¾.

The champion won the first round by a shade, booming a two-fisted attack to the surprise of most experts who expected him to retreat until Graziano ran out of gas.

The second round was pretty much of a standoff, although Graziano started clubbing with his wicked right until Robinson hastily back-pedaled.

The third round found Graziano getting a little cocky. When he floored Robinson with a right that spilled the champion so quickly it looked like he slipped, Rocky had made a fatal mistake.

Robinson quickly uprighted himself and then squaring off for murderous range, pumped the left-right combination that put the lights out for Rocky. Graziano courageously tried to get his collapsed body upright, but he didn't make it until after Referee Tommy Gilmore had counted 10.

Major League Briefs

New York, April 17 (AP)—Johnny Mize, New York Yankee first baseman, has 1,950 hits to his credit today. The slugging veteran connected for a double in the seventh inning yesterday off the slants of Philadelphia's Alex Kellner. Mize would like to close out his brilliant career as a member of the 2,000 hit club.

Detroit, April 17 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Brown's new manager, is operating a three-platoon system of his own at first base. So far, the Rajah has used Dick Kryhoski, Gordon Goldsberry and Hank Arft at the initial corner. Arft banged out a double and a triple yesterday while Kryhoski came through with a timely pinch single.

Chicago, April 17 (AP)—Bob Lemon, Cleveland righthander, already has equalled his 1951 record in at least one department. His shutout yesterday against the Chicago White Sox was as many as he compiled all last season.

Philadelphia, April 17 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, of the New York Yankees, had three hits, one a double, and stole a base in the Yankee win over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. This should dispel fears the baby-faced outfielder's leg, injured in last year's World Series, will not hold up.

Boston, April 17 (AP)—Although his Brooklyn teammates had a field day against the Braves pounding out 20 hits (with Duke Snider making five), Gil Hodges went hitless in six trips yesterday.

Amends Press Law

Karachi, Pakistan, April 17 (AP)—Parliament today passed an amendment to the press law which Interior Minister Mushtaq Ahmad Gurmani said would guarantee that newspapers could not be owned by "foreigners who might influence public opinion." The amendment requires that the sole owner of a newspaper must be a Pakistani, and that at least 75 per cent of the capital of a publishing concern must be held by Pakistan citizens.

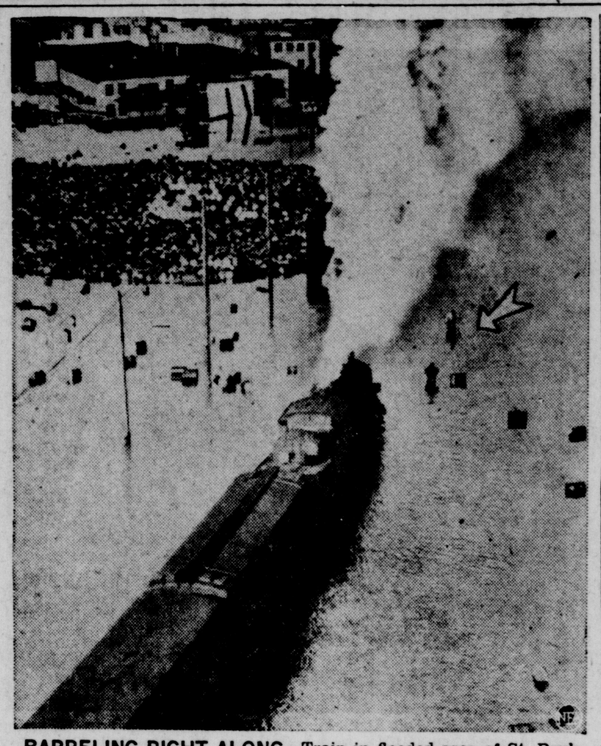
FASHION LIKES IKE—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's imminent homecoming has made more than political repercussions. Fashion designers, alert to a "good thing," have decided they "like Ike." Radio and television actress Maggi McNellis models a new "I like Ike" circle skirt, and an "Ike" choker of black velvet, on display at Citizens-for-Eisenhower headquarters in New York.

YOUTHFUL FASHION EXPERT—Eddie Hunter, a fashion designer at 13, puts the finishing touches on his latest creation, being modeled by his sister, Patricia, at Madison Square Boys' Club, New York. Eddie's needle-and-thread technique has won him the job of official tailor when the club members attend camp next summer.



BARRELING RIGHT ALONG—Train in flooded area of St. Paul, Minn., moves along at a snail's pace, as trainmen in water (arrow) push barrels, floating off huge pile at left, from submerged tracks.

KING-SIZED—The cameraman had to go 'wa-a-ay up to shoot down on Ted Evans, when he recently arrived in New York from England. Ted, who wanted to be a jockey, is a mere nine feet, three inches tall. He's headed for a berth with the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus. His pint-sized, fellow-passengers aboard the Queen Mary are John Brodie, five, and his six-year-old sister, Stephanie, of Salt Lake City.

Fred Waring Arrested

Trenton, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Band leader Fred Waring was arrested on a reckless driving charge here last night. Police said the 52-year-old television star exceeded the city speed limit and almost forced a police car from the street. Waring told police he was in a hurry to get to a TV rehearsal. He posted a $50 bond for his appearance in traffic court April 22.

Sets Annual Prayer Day

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman today signed a congressional resolution calling for an annual day of prayer. The day to be designated by the President will be other than a Sunday. The purpose of the resolution is to have the public assemble in churches, synagogues and other places of worship to offer prayers for world peace.

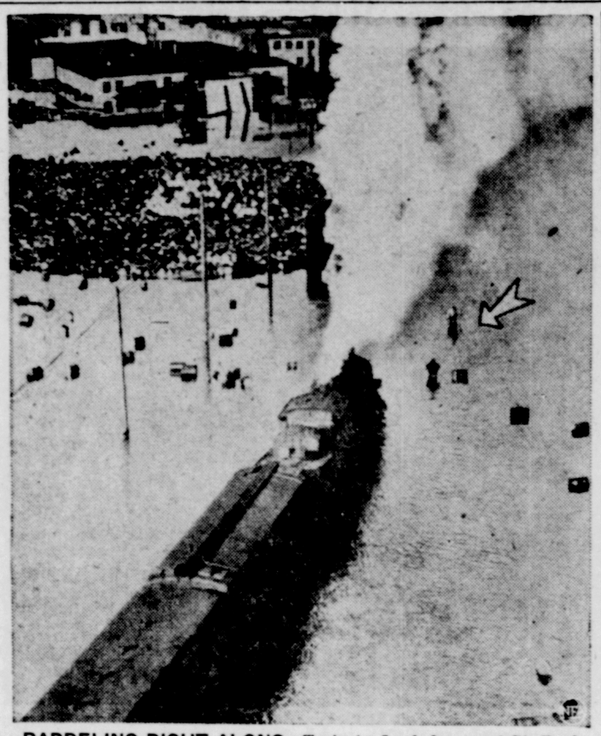
FASHION LIKES IKE—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's imminent homecoming has made more than political repercussions. Fashion designers, alert to a "good thing," have decided they "like Ike." Radio and television actress Maggi McNellis models a new "I like Ike" circle skirt, and an "Ike" choker of black velvet, on display at Citizens-for-Eisenhower headquarters in New York.

YOUTHFUL FASHION EXPERT—Eddie Hunter, a fashion designer at 13, puts the finishing touches on his latest creation, being modeled by his sister, Patricia, at Madison Square Boys' Club, New York. Eddie's needle-and-thread technique has won him the job of official tailor when the club members attend camp next summer.



BARRELING RIGHT ALONG—Train in flooded area of St. Paul, Minn., moves along at a snail's pace, as trainmen in water (arrow) push barrels, floating off huge pile at left, from submerged tracks.

KING-SIZED—The cameraman had to go 'wa-a-ay up to shoot down on Ted Evans, when he recently arrived in New York from England. Ted, who wanted to be a jockey, is a mere nine feet, three inches tall. He's headed for a berth with the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus. His pint-sized, fellow-passengers aboard the Queen Mary are John Brodie, five, and his six-year-old sister, Stephanie, of Salt Lake City.

Sets Annual Prayer Day

Washington, April 17 (AP)—President Truman today signed a congressional resolution calling for an annual day of prayer. The day to be designated by the President will be other than a Sunday. The purpose of the resolution is to have the public assemble in churches, synagogues and other places of worship to offer prayers for world peace.

Most snakes have detachable lower jaws which permit them to swallow their victims whole.

Fred Waring Arrested

Trenton, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Band leader Fred Waring was arrested on a reckless driving charge here last night. Police said the 52-year-old television star exceeded the city speed limit and almost forced a police car from the street. Waring told police he was in a hurry to get to a TV rehearsal. He posted a $50 bond for his appearance in traffic court April 22.

Empire Well Drillers Meet in City

Officers and directors of the Empire State Water Well Drillers' Association convening in Kingston at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday included, seated (l. to r.) Clarence W. Crandall, Pine City, secretary-treasurer; James Stoutenburg, Glenford, president; and Fred Merrill, Jr., Liverpool, vice-president. Standing are Lee Bates, Rome; Louis Malanchuck, Croton Falls, directors; and Harry Edinger, Kingston, guest speaker. (Freeman Photo).

ThinkGovernment

three-installment 17½ cent an hour wage boost, fringe benefits worth about 8½ cents and the union shop, which would require all workers to join the union.

Those are the settlement terms suggested by the Wage Stabilization Board, which studied the dispute for three months.

The industry's highest offer is 12½ cents in wages, five cents in fringes—and no union shop. The industry says it would need a price boost of $12 a ton—four times the increase the government says it will allow—to offset the union's demands.

Truman Criticized

Truman was severely criticized yesterday by Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican Senate leader, for his steel seizure order. Bridges blamed the President for "helping create" the steel deadlock and raising "the gravest constitutional question since the war between the states."

Truman's opponents say he had no authority to senze the industry. The industry has filed half a dozen court suits making the same claim. But the government contends the President had ample seizure powers and that seizure was necessary to protect the nation's military position "during this period of national emergency."

Bridges led a group of Republican senators who sponsored a resolution calling for a full investigation by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Reds Press for Talks

Munsan, April 17 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators pressed again today for immediate resumption of the off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean war. The Reds made a similar suggestion Sunday. The UN command has not replied. The talks were recessed April 4 so both sides could explore separately possible ways to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange. The Communists want all prisoners returned. The allies insist that no one should be repatriated against his will.

Impressed With Tank

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The tank the army gambled on has proved it can climb better than a man without slipping, run under water, break most city speed limits, stop on a dime—packs a terrific wallop. The army demonstrated the M-47 to newsmen at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in nearby Maryland yesterday.

Ask About Radio, TV

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Senators working on election law reforms called a public hearing today to explore the part played in political campaigns by radio and television.

Taft Wants . . . to cover the 10 per cent pay raise voted for federal workers by Congress last year.

Uncertain on Test

Neither the sponsors of the amendment nor the Senate leadership were certain when the test would come on the amendment.

The supplemental money bill technically was the pending business throughout yesterday's session but no votes were taken. Senators mostly talked about other things.

When the Senate does get down to business on the measure, there also will be a test on a practice some lawmakers have denounced for years—wiping out previous money-saving votes by financing the same projects through deficiency bills.

Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) plans to force this by offering an amendment to knock out 50 million dollars of a 69½ million deficiency allotment for federal highway aid.

Last year Congress cut the allotment for federal road spending by 95 million dollars.

Douglas said the 69½ million dollars carried in the deficiency bill "plus carryovers of 23½ million, would restore 98 per cent of the reduction made by Congress for the current fiscal year," ending June 30.

The Joiners

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular business meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. A full attendance is requested. Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

The regular meeting of Kingston Chapter, 155, OES, will be held Friday at the Masonic Temple. An Easter pageant will be presented by the officers. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All those planning to attend the dinner on Deputy Night may make reservations with Minnie Neebe or Mary Smith before April 29.

Favors Kefauver

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) today threw his support behind Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as "the best available candidate of our party" for the Democratic presidential nomination. Douglas' announcement came just 24 hours after Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois declared he could not accept top place on the Democratic ticket. Douglas had been supporting Stevenson.

A pint of water and a pint of alcohol do not measure one quart when added together.

MJM Boys Turn Shoemakers for YMCA Campaign

Myron J. Michael boys, members of the Junior Hi-Y club, are making papier-mache Dutch type wooden shoes to chart the success of the 100 volunteers in the YMCA fund raising campaign for $22,500. The drive opens Thursday, April 24 and will continue through Monday, May 12. A shoe bearing the name of each volunteer will be on display in the lobby at the YMCA. In the foreground, boys preparing for the opening of the drive, are Bob Sander, Jack Dawkins, Bernard Ferrara and Clarence Correll, youth director. (Freeman Photo).

Red Cross Drive Lagging in Area

The 1952 Red Cross Fund campaign in Kingston and Ulster county is lagging far behind expectations and although the campaign has been extended through April, only about half of the quota has been reached to date.

Failure to meet the goal during March was due in part to lack of sufficient workers to make a quick canvass and cover every prospective contributor.

In the face of floods and the dire need for funds for disaster work, the fund campaign is lagging in most of the country.

Aids Local Sufferers

Locally, last year the American Red Cross through the Ulster County Chapter, spent a considerable amount of Red Cross money is assisting and rehabilitating people along the Esopus creek following disastrous floods.

Again this spring the Red Cross has been called upon to assist a number of families who suffered damage to homes and property along the Esopus creek in the flood two weeks ago. Although the damage was not nearly as great as in 1951, a considerable sum will be allocated by Red Cross for relief right here in Ulster county.

In addition to local needs the Red Cross is facing one of the greatest flood disasters of modern times in the west and it has been necessary to raise the local quota to meet this emergency. The quota for Kingston and Ulster county, originally set at $46,400, has been raised to meet the need in the tornado and flooded areas of the country.

To date few communities have reported their quotas reached.

New Paltz, with a quota of $1,300, through its chairmen, E. V. Beebe and B. H. Madison, reported today that it had exceeded its quota by $50.

The second village to report going over the top this week was Plattekill where Mrs. Wilson Edmunds, chairman, reported the quota of $233 had been exceeded and to date $238.80 has been received.

Appeals to Workers

Howard C. St. John, chairman of the local fund campaign committee, has issued an appeal to all workers to make a complete canvass of their areas as quickly as possible and report to headquarters.

Mrs. Ward J. Dunham, 12th ward worker, to date holds the record for areas canvassed. She had canvassed Lucas avenue from Green street to Forsyth Park; Washington avenue from the viaduct to Linderman avenue; Green street from St. James to North Front street, Linderman avenue from Wall street out and she has also worked Lafayette avenue and Janet street.

Ice hockey first was played in rudimentary form in Europe in the 18th century, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The oyster often produces more than 60,000,000 eggs a year.

three-installment 17½ cent an hour wage boost, fringe benefits worth about 8½ cents and the union shop, which would require all workers to join the union.

Those are the settlement terms suggested by the Wage Stabilization Board, which studied the dispute for three months.

The industry's highest offer is 12½ cents in wages, five cents in fringes—and no union shop. The industry says it would need a price boost of $12 a ton—four times the increase the government says it will allow—to offset the union's demands.

Truman Criticized

Truman was severely criticized yesterday by Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican Senate leader, for his steel seizure order. Bridges blamed the President for "helping create" the steel deadlock and raising "the gravest constitutional question since the war between the states."

Truman's opponents say he had no authority to senze the industry. The industry has filed half a dozen court suits making the same claim. But the government contends the President had ample seizure powers and that seizure was necessary to protect the nation's military position "during this period of national emergency."

Bridges led a group of Republican senators who sponsored a resolution calling for a full investigation by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Reds Press for Talks

Munsan, April 17 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators pressed again today for immediate resumption of the off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean war. The Reds made a similar suggestion Sunday. The UN command has not replied. The talks were recessed April 4 so both sides could explore separately possible ways to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange. The Communists want all prisoners returned. The allies insist that no one should be repatriated against his will.

The army demonstrated the M-47 to newsmen at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in nearby Maryland yesterday.
